PA NEW OBSERVES

Members of the First United Presbyterian congregation were gratified on Sunday, when after two and a half years they were able to worship in their own church once more.
The magnificent new edifice at Glenmore boulevard and Albert street was formally dedicated in the presence of an immense throng of members and visitors. The dedicatory program will extend throughout the week. The open house inspection for those not members of the congregation is scheduled for this evening.

Tomorrow is primary election day.
Go to the polls and vote. The election is one of more than ordinary importance, and the outcome will be epochal in the state.

Now is the time to plant your garden. Raise your own garden truck

bers and displayed in a case at the entrance, in observance of different

Call 4000 And Give Returns Of Election

The News is asking the co-operation of the election boards serving at the primary on Tuesday, in the city and county, in an effort to secure the earliest returns possible on the election result.

All election boards are asked to call 4000 and give the returns in their voting precinct as soon as possible on Tuesday night. By making the report as early as possible the boards will be doing a service to the community, as there is more than usual interest in the result of the primaries tomorrow.

Election boards are also reminded that it is a requirement that the result of the balloting in the primary be posted outside the polling place, as soon as completed. In some instances it has been found by reporters that this provision has not been complied with in recent elections.

Likewise, it is a request of The News that the returns which are made at the court house on Wednesday be delivered as early as possible. At some elections in the past some of the precincts have not been reported until after noon, Wednesday. This delays the complete count and holds up announcement of the result.

Fred L. Rentz, general chairman of the G. A. R. Encampment Committee, Captain Bell states that it is the height of his ambition to make the trip, which he hopes to make in safety and comfort.

The fact that he, a civil war veteran of such advanced years, is to make the City Area Shows Population Near 58,000 By Census

Healthy Gain Is Shown By Townships Immediately Surrounding New

COUNTY FIGURE
IS OVER 96,000

New Castle And Ellwood City Show Biggest Gains In County Enumeration

Population of the New Castle city community is approximately 58,000 people, according to an estimate made today, based on the figures of the city proper and the districts immediately adjacent to the city, where substantial gains have been made in population during the past decade.

The unofficial estimate of the county's population is slightly more than 96,000, the present count with one district in Union township yet to be completed, shows 94,232. This one district is expected to be around 3,000, the actual count as completed at the present time being 2,197.

Townships Fringe City
Exclusive of South New Castle Borough, there are six townships which are immediately adjacent to the city.
These are Neshannock township, Union township, Taylor township, Hickory township, Shenango township and North Beaver township.

The population of these townships as a whole is 16,603. Only 9,500 of this population was figured in estimating the population of the New Castle community, as some of the extreme boundaries of these townships are around ten miles away from the city limits. However, only a small portion of these townships was included in the estimate.

With New Castle proper showing a count of 49,000 these added figures bring the population figure for the community area to 58,500 which is believed to be very conservative.

Hoover

Bulletin
(Washington News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—The nomination of Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia as an associate justice of the Supreme Court was reported favorably by the Senate judiciary committee today. The report was unanimous.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The nomination of Owen J. Roberts, of Philadelphia, as an associate justice of the supreme court, will be confirmed by the senate within the next few days without serious effort, it was predicted today by administration leaders.

The senate judiciary committee met this morning to hear a favorable report from a special subcommittee, headed by Senator Borah (R) of Ida.
The subcommittee was named to investigate Roberts' legal career, and judicial qualifications. It decided to endorse him unanimously for the high court, without holding public hearings.

No Complaints
"There has been no complaint against the appointment of Mr. Roberts," announced Senator Borah, "so there was no need for public hearings."

The only question raised about Roberts was a request from Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president in 1928, that he be questioned as to his views on social and economic issues.

Thomas asked Senator Norris (R) of Neb., chairman of the judiciary committee, to find some method

Immense Throng At Dedication Of New First Church

Dr. W. I. Wishart Of Pittsburgh Makes Addresses
At Dedication

PROGRAM EXTENDS THROUGHOUT WEEK

Many Former Members Return For Services Held On Sunday

Two appropriate services on Sunday, observed with deep impressiveness, marked the formal opening of Dedication Week for the beautiful new stone edifice of the First United Presbyterian church at Glenmore boulevard and Albert street, in the north hill residential district. Fully 900 persons attended each service.

The magnificent structure was formally set apart as a house of worship at the morning services when the pastor, the Rev. S. E. Irvine, D.
D., and members of the congregation participated in the reading of the service of dedication. Dr. W. I. Wishart, pastor of the Eighth U. P. church, Pittsburgh, preached both the morning and evening dedicatory sermons.

Community Night
The week's program will continue this evening with a Community Night observance, scheduled to open with a short program in the spacious basement assembly hall of the church promptly at 8 o'clock. Judge James A. Chambers will preside and greetings will be conveyed by representatives of various denominational and outside church organizations.

The building will be thrown open for inspection immediately following the program.
Former members of the church turned out in large numbers for yesterday's occasion, a memorable one in the history of the First congregation inasmuch as it marked the opening of a building which represents the united efforts of the members, who more than two years and a half ago were cast into temporary gloom when a disastrous fire swept their North Jefferson street house of worship.

Many Visitors
The one-time members, most of them from communities nearby but some from farther distances drove here to be in attendance upon the opening services and to share in the proud accomplishment of the church to which they once belonged.

A large number of visitors were present both morning and evening, and at each service the auditorium with a seating capacity of more than 700 was filled to overflowing.

Morning Service
The service of the morning opened with an organ prelude with Mrs.
Harvey Brenner presiding at the organ. It was a beautiful number entitled "Toccata."
The doxology was sung, after which came the invocation by Dr.
Irvine, the pastor, followed by the quarter's response.

The scripture lesson was read from Psalm 84 and immediately following came an anthem by the quartet, composed of Miss Ruth Drecher, soprano;
Mrs. Collins Van Nort, contralto;
Albert Gekinger, tenor, and L. H.
Rodgers, bass. It was "The King of Love My Shepherd Is."

It will take some money to do this,

Mrs. J. E. Elliott Decides To Serve

APPOINTMENT HOLDS

Mrs. John E. Elliott of Berger Place will serve as a member of the New Castle School Board. In a statement made today she made known her intention of abiding by the election held by the school board on Wednesday evening May 14 and said that she would take the place made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. John G.

The statement was a brief one.
"After considering the matter carefully, I have decided to accept the appointment tendered me as a school director said Mrs. Elliott. "I realize that it is a task fraught with responsibility and hard work, but I also realize that it is the duty of a good citizen to bear his share of such responsibility. The cause of education is one which cannot be neglected and if the members of the New Castle school board feel that I can serve acceptably, then I am willing to do so."

BUS RUNS INTO TRAILER OF TRUCK

(International News Service)
CANTON, O., May 19.—The toll of a crash yesterday between a Pittsburgh-Detroit bus and a big truck owned by a Cleveland firm 14 miles north of here on the Canton-Akron road, stood today at two dead, five injured seriously and 14 others suffering minor injuries.

The dead, Jacob Hubbard, 33, Alliance, O., and Mrs. W. N. Emery, 42, Bellevue, Pa.

Carl Craig, 28, of Canton, driver of the truck, told authorities he had stopped the truck and was repairing the motor when the bus crashed into the truck trailer. He claimed there were four lighted warning lanterns on the rear of the trailer. Rain evidently obscured them.

Deputy Sheriff C. M. Deuterich is investigating the crash. The bus was operated by the Union Transportation Company of Pittsburgh.

didate for the unexpired term of Mrs. Notthardt, as under the law, such an appointment holds only until a general election can be held.

The resignation of Mrs. Notthardt was presented only after she was convinced that she was not doing justice to herself by staying on. For some time her health has not been good and the duties of school director were not conducive to an early recovery. Her resignation was accepted with regret.

The election of Mrs. Elliott brings to the school board a young woman, one of progressive ideas, a woman of executive ability. Her talents have been used freely in civic, fraternal and religious work and she comes to the board with a background of experience that will serve her and the schools of New Castle well.

Retired Farmer, 79, Meets His Death Under Earth Fall

Neighbors Start Search When Robert Speer Disappears
From His Home

Robert Speer, aged 79, a retired farmer of Neshannock township, was found dead near his home Sunday night, following a search by neighbors to whom it had been reported that he had not been seen for several days.

Mr. Speer, a bachelor, lived by himself in a house located on the road leading east from the New Wilmington road at Neshannock U. P. church to the Coalton road. He was last seen about his house on Thursday by Rosa Wirt, a neighborhood girl.

As nothing was seen of him on Friday or Saturday, it was supposed that he had gone to visit his brother, James R. Speer, who lives not far away. Usually he did not stay away long from his home and when he was not seen on Sunday inquiry was made at his brother's to learn if he was there.

When it was found that he was not, a posse of neighbors composed of Oscar Smith, William Sheddick, H. Nord, Joseph W. Stephen, McBride and James R. Speer, brother, started to look for him.

Some 200 feet back of the Speer home there is a ledge of shale, at the bottom of which a coal vein crops out. Mr. Speer was in the habit of digging coal for his own use from this vein.

As the searchers approached the ledge last night about 9 o'clock they found that there had been a fall of earth. Surmising that Mr. Speer might be buried under it, picks and shovels were secured and after about three feet of earth had been removed the body of Mr. Speer was recovered. It was in a stooping position as though Mr. Speer had been in the act of digging when the fall of earth occurred. Coroner J. P. Caldwell was notified and decided that death was accidental.

Mr. Speer was born in Allegheny county, but came to Lawrence county in early life and had resided in Neshannock township ever since. He was well known throughout the township. He is survived by one brother, James R. Speer, of Neshannock township.

Funeral services will be held in the Shenango U. P. church on Tuesday, May 20, at 3:00 p. m., with Rev. E. M. Nesbitt, of Columbus, O., in charge.

Survivors of Mrs. Speer are one brother, James Speer, two nieces, Mrs. Harry Ward and Mrs. W. H. Shaddick, of this city and the following cousins, Misses Margaret and Sara Lester, John Lester and Mrs. L. W. Miller, all of Pittsburgh.

STAR LORE AMATEUR TELESCOPE MAKER FIRST TO SEE NEW COMET

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

The writer recently interviewed Albert G. Ingalls, author of the book, "Amateur Telescope Making," in New York. Ingalls called attention to the fact that many boys ambitious to make telescopes who write in, are about 14 years of age, a little too young to make a success of the effort; that boys should be of high school age, and with knowledge of high school mathematics. He also mentioned that Tombaugh, who was first to see the image of the new planet at Lowell observatory, was an amateur telescope maker, having made three reflecting telescopes after the directions given in the little book.

Thousands Homeless
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 19.—With sixteen dead, thousands homeless and property damage estimated at five million dollars, Red Cross workers and the Arkansas National Guard today struggled to bring order into the flood stricken district of southwestern Arkansas.

All the dead were Negroes. An area of from three to five miles was inundated between the Little Red and Ouachita rivers where rescuers were using boats to save women and children.

Levees were reported weakening under the pounding of the Red river at Fulton and the highways of the lowlands were jammed with refugees and their household goods.

The Red Cross entered the stricken district late last night and established headquarters at Smackover. A camp was also set up at Sunnyland to care for the homeless.

Menaces Texas
DALAS, Tex., May 19.—Flood waters today menaced a vast area of Texas following a series of week end wind and rainstorms which took four lives and caused enormous property damage.

Hundreds of farm families already have been driven from their lowland homes as the result of flood waters of nearly a dozen rivers in the Central, Eastern and Northwestern sections of the state.

Torrential rains extending from the Northern boundary of the state to the extreme central portion sent rivers to flood stages, causing wide inundations of lowlands and severe damage to crops.

by which the nominee's view could be aired. Norris said he would like to know how Roberts stood "Yellow Dog" contracts, social problems and the issue between property and human rights, but that he knew of no method by which the nominee would be questioned.

The attitude toward Roberts was in strange contrast to the long and successful battle against confirmation of Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina.

Parker was defeated because of his economic views and these were aired by publication of his legal opinions as a judge on the third circuit court of appeals and as a gubernatorial candidate in North Carolina. Roberts has had no such record.

The nominee, named after Judge Parker was rejected, will fill the vacancy on the supreme court caused by the death of Justice Sanford.

Daring, Swagging Spirit of Ace Pilots Injected Into New Rogers' Picture

Modern knight-errantry is the basis for Paramount's latest Charles (Bud) Rogers' adventure-romance, "Young Eagles," which will show at the Capitol theatre, starting today for three days.

During the World war, a spirit of comradeship existed between the air-fighting forces of both sides which was absent between the fighting units on land, where men moved in regiments. In the air, the warriors, engaged in individual combat, came to know each other and to observe certain gestures of chivalry between fighting hours.

The Capitol will also present Stan Laurel with Oliver Hardy in their latest comedy entitled "Night Owls" and other attractions.

Any member of the legislature when it assembles does not know the nature of all the bills that will be presented and upon which he will have the opportunity to vote. If nominated and elected I pledge my vote in accordance with the will of the people whom I will represent.

Thanks to my many friends and supporters for the efforts they have put forth during my campaign for my candidacy to the General Assembly for First District (New Castle) of Lawrence county.

PRIMARY ELECTION—VOTE!

ON TUESDAY the voters of Pennsylvania will take part in the most important primary election of the past ten years.

There is every reason why there should be a heavy turnout of voters at the polls, not only in the state at large, but in New Castle and Lawrence county in particular.

Those voters who are wont to pass up their right of franchise with the excuse that they are not interested, that there is no big issue at stake, or it doesn't matter to them who is elected, are silenced for the occasion.

This is a primary election where as never since the adoption of the 18th amendment, has the issue been squarely brought into the campaign, not only in the state wide campaign, but in the local campaign as well. In addition, there are other issues figuring in the outcome of the primary election that are fraught with significance to the state and district.

There is scant excuse for not voting at the primaries tomorrow, on the part of any eligible man or woman.

The occasion is one that calls for exercise of the right of franchise by every citizen. Vote!

WHAT CENSUS FIGURES REVEAL

It is always just a little bit disheartening to discover that one has left youth behind.

When you are young you can make any kind of plans you like. For all you know, they may come true some day. Anything at all can happen, and you can spin the wildest day dreams imaginable without ever being tripped up by hard facts.

But when you discover that your youth has evaporated you have to make the best of what you have. It's not much use in making elaborate plans. The only thing left is to size up the situation, see what the possibilities are and buckle down to make the most of 'em.

That's the way it is with most of us, when you stop to think about it, with nations as well.

All of this is brought to mind by a more or less casual study of the current census figures. They seem to indicate that the United States is leaving its youth behind and reaching maturity; and that, in turn, means that a very radical change in our national philosophy and habits of action is impending.

Population growth is slowing down. Many and many a city finds itself far short of the mark that it confidently expected to reach. Rural counties are, in many cases, actually shrinking. Experts predict that in two or three more decades the nation's population will be practically stabilized.

All of this is going to have a profound effect. It means that the old pioneering, boom-town atmosphere is going to disappear and that a more sober, thoughtful philosophy will have to take its place if we are to avoid trouble.

We have always been a nation of pioneers—even after our physical frontiers had been pushed to the west coast. Always there has been rapid growth. Any sort of city or town, almost, could look ahead to constant increase in size. A man's neighbors were always increasing in number.

This affected our whole national character. It bred a blind optimism, a feeling that we could not spoil our chances, a conviction that ever-bigger things were bound to be always ahead of us. It made the lot of the promoter an easy one. It was a tremendously potent stimulant to activity—but it did not lead us to take a great deal of thought for the morrow.

Now the swing of the pendulum is slowing down. Things won't be coming to easily thereafter. The old, slam-bang, full-speed-ahead system must give way to careful planning and wise forethought. The premium on restless energy will not be quite so high, and the demand for cool, analytical brain-power will increase.

In short, as a nation we are turning a corner. We are leaving an era behind us, and a long process of readjustment lies ahead. It will take some real thinking and some scientific study to get us through it without discomfort.

CHANGING COLLEGE CUSTOMS

American college and university men and women view with regret the passing of many of the traditional ceremonies and customs of college days. They may preach the advantages of high scholarship to undergraduates and deplore the general overemphasis of athletics, but it seems to the most sober-minded among them that to abandon any of the inter-class affairs and class ceremonies is to destroy some of the most cherished traditions of the old Alma Mater.

Fence rushes, cap burnings, maypoles, flag rushes, tug-o-wars and other pleasantries and exchanges between freshmen and sophomores have long constituted an integral part of the campus scene at virtually every college in the land, with the possible indifferent exception of Harvard, where such "juvenile foolishness" has never obtained, but where private enterprise on the part of undergraduates has annually inaugurated minor breaches of the academic peace. Even the larger urban universities have long boasted a fierce rivalry between members of the lower classes.

Interclass violence is going the way of hazing and horse-play in fraternity initiations. Society has brought pressure to bear upon them because of shocking accidents and destructive riots. A less intolerant outside world is exerting a civilizing influence upon the campus, which the college man, in spite of his boasted unconventionality and freedom, dare not oppose.

CHEAP LABOR

The realization dawned in the North and West long ago, and is just beginning to be felt in the South, that there is no such thing as cheap labor. Cheap labor lives cheaply, works cheaply, buys cheaply. It is a detriment to the industrial world; a detriment to its particular industry; a detriment to its community.

What do the most successful of our industrialists say? They go where labor is costliest, because they find, surprisingly, that they make more money doing it. Henry Ford is an example. He has paid the highest wages in the automobile industry and made the most money.

Eben E. Whitman, head of a textile corporation with large mills both north and south of the Mason and Dixon line, tells his industry that "every vitally destructive force that is bearing down on us, if traced to its source, leads directly to the industrial exploitation of women and children in our mills."

When New England textile manufacturers, blindly seeking a way out of their postwar difficulties, moved their factories to the South to take advantage of cheap male labor and still cheap child and female labor in the hope that the move was the solution they sought, they jumped from the frying pan into the fire. Their harvest has been disastrous labor disorders.

Whitman now says that "this unfair and selfish utilization of women and children" is the cause of the "downfall of this great and essential industry."

But these developments do not argue for constitutional amendments against child labor and more humane laws regulating employment of female labor. They prove that these evils remedy themselves; that industry is not dependent on legislatures.

Much About Prohibition.
Morrow's Dilemma.
2 Sailors Plus Bootleg, Equals Two Killed.
Rogers, Babe and Suckling.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features Syn. Inc.)

Ambassador Morrow's hat is in the ring, and ardent prohibitionists are throwing stones at it.

The ambassador says the Federal government is too far away to attend to prohibition details in the states, says the prohibition law should be repealed and prohibition taken out of the Constitution. Each state should be allowed to handle its own drink problem, just as it deals now with its horse theft problem, and divorce problem.

The Ambassador speaks kindly of prohibition, but that will not save him with prohibitionists, who, deeply convinced demand ALL OR NOTHING.

It will be an interesting campaign. Dripping wet Democrats complaining that Morrow is not dry enough, the bone-dry Republican running independently against Morrow.

The administration must be opposed to Morrow since it is drier than "India's Burning Sands."

Mr. Morrow is capable. New Jersey with him as Senator would get more than with anybody else.

The state is notoriously wet. Mr. Morrow would probably be elected but for the fact that he is in favor of the League of Nations. Difficult situation for a man honestly seeking an opportunity to prove that one successful in business could be useful in public office.

While Mr. Morrow was telling New Jersey what he thought about prohibition, two sailors were shooting each other to death in the home of one at Lakewood, New Jersey. Good friends, they had served in the Navy for 12 years, had just been honorably discharged, agreed to celebrate, and did it with bootleg liquor. Both were found Friday morning riddled with bullets.

The walls were splattered with bullets and blood, windows were broken, furniture smashed. One, Robert Evans, was dead, head crushed in; the other, Albert Duffy, two bullets in his head, two in his body, was mortally wounded. Fifty shots had been fired. It was the usual powerful bootleg whisky.

The second verse of the Eighth Psalm applies to Will Rogers. It says:

Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast ordained strength.

Even on the lonesome prairie, his earliest recollection a ride on the sharp backbone of an Oklahoma steer, Rogers is a babe and suckling of nature. Yet he manages to put the truth so simply that even an Anglo-maniac can understand him.

He says in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer:

"It looks like our boys went after treaty, and Japan's gang went after ships. Well, they both got 'em."

That's exactly what happened. Japan knew and demanded what she wanted and got what she wanted.

We wanted some kind of a treaty, any kind of a treaty, and we got it. Perhaps the Senate won't swallow it.

Maude Adams will return to the stage. Younger than Bernhardt and Ellen Terry when at their best, about the age of Ada Rehan in her prime, and with intellect fully developed, she will be better than ever.

She made her first appearance on the stage when one year old. There is no danger of stage fright after a long rest.

Beginning July 1, German law will forbid the sale of liquor on pay days. That applies to "hard liquor," especially Schnapps, a whisky made chiefly from potatoes. Like other European countries, Germany discourages the drinking of highly alcoholic drinks. Light wines and beers are not affected by the restricting laws. They are not considered harmfully alcoholic.

BROTHERHOOD
These things come to us one and all, Sorrow and pain and care, Master or servant out in the hall Similar hurts must bear.

Once in a fever Caesar cried;
So shall the greatest whine, Wealth, and station, and pomp, and pride.

Put by their raiment fine
And share the throbbing of temples hot
With the man who lies on a ward room cot.

Whatever you know of pain or care
Or sorrow's ache and sting,
Brother are you by the hurts you bear
To the world's supremest king.

The great shall weep as you weep to-day
And the poor have wept in the self-same way.

Great Interest In Masfield Is Expressed By Americans

New Poet Laureate's Experience In New York Recalled In Estimates Of Singer Of Common People Who Achieved Literary Fame

American comments on the selection of John Masfield as poet laureate of England are colored in part by recollections of his world wanderings, in the course of which he was a humble worker in New York City. He is called a poet of daily toil, yet credited with the distinction of being one of the foremost of modern writers.

"John Masfield, ex-sailor, ex-ship's cook, ex-saloon porter and ex-rover over the world," says the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, "has been made poet laureate of England. All of which is in perfect keeping with the trend of things in Morris England. And all of which, again, means that England's poet laureate will be read by more than a baker's dozen for the first time in many, many years."

To Americans, in the opinion of the SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN, "there had been special piquancy in wondering whether the government's official recognition of the muse would fall on a man who once tramped about America looking for jobs, and worked in a New York barroom. This has come to pass," continues that paper, "and if the building which sheltered the saloon is still in existence, or perhaps the saloon itself in a properly transformed state, there is now the chance to distinguish it with a tablet, proclaiming: 'Here the poet laureate of England once toiled for a modest wage.'"

Emphasis upon his extraordinary life story is placed by the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, with the added comment: "Not that Masfield's temporary sojourn in a place of refreshment in Greenwich avenue was anything more than an incident in a life of adventure that had covered the Seven Seas and moved to the land to add variety to the cravings of vagabondia. From such a background came George Borrow and our own Jack London, to the enrichment of their powers. Many a spirited youth has followed the same path with credit." * * * Masfield is still in the middle fifties, still preoccupied with ships and seas and hunting the fox on land, as British as any son of Albion ever has been. There must be great work still left in him.

"His selection," as viewed by the NEW YORK TIMES, "makes of his life a story of the kind supposed to be peculiar to American soil. While other Englishmen of letters called to this eminent place have known poverty and obscurity, there is none who endured them in so many phases and in so many parts of the earth. The Labor government has chosen the most gifted and sympathetic poet of daily toil." The KANSAS CITY STAR feels that "it is refreshing to the rest of the world, perhaps even a part of the literary world, that instead of hating merely upon the safe course and selecting a poet who would be sure to say the right thing in the accepted manner, the British government and the crown have been daring enough to strike out into the open."

"He is the poet of the downtrodden," declares the CHATTANOOGA NEWS, with the added statement: "Kipling, the voice of the empire, said his prayer in 'Recessional.' John Masfield said his prayer in 'A Consecration.' How fine it is to see a great nation crown with its laurels a man whose soul is stirred by such thoughts as in that fine poem." The News quotes this poem, the concluding lines of which are:

"Others may sing of the wine and the health and the mirth

The portly presence of potentates goodly in girth!

Mine be the dirt and dress, the dust and the scum of the earth!

Theirs be the music, the color, the glory, the gold;

Mine be a handful of ashes, a mouthful of mould.

Of the maimed, of the halt and the blind, in the rain and the cold—

Of these shall my songs be fashioned, my tales be told."

"England has gone back to a 'Thomson' to its 'Song of the Shirt,'" avers the DAYTON DAILY NEWS, referring to Masfield as "the spokesman beneath," and that paper concludes: "One may confidently expect that he will sing with bare hands now, as he did in the anguish of the war, his old contempt for that 'blind war in power' who leads to destruction his 'dust and scum of the earth.'"

"If he celebrates the royalties in dutiful verse," suggests the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, "he will dress them in flesh and blood, and not in Kipling's ermine." That paper also remarks that Masfield "is a real poet of the age and time," whose "manifold experiences have been woven into the texture of his poetry," that he will never disgrace the laurel, but rather the chances are that he will pass it on "greener to the brows" of his successor. It is likely that he has written more verse that will live than any other living poet."

"He occupies the place which Chaucer held," in the judgment of the BIRMINGHAM NEWS, which feels that "the same general trend in affairs which has lifted Ramsay MacDonald to the premiership has shaped

"Neither of these races lived out its destiny, or finished its story. It was stunted, like a deer knocked in the head, but not destroyed."

"The idea that these races were bringing to fruition are still here. The story of the Mayans and the Aztecs, and the Toltecs was a chapter interrupted. In the nature of things, the story will be taken up again and carried to fulfillment."

"No one can fail to realize that this school of Mexican art is only a shaft sunk down to old fire that is smoldering and boiling. In the half-conscious designs of the Indian pottery makers of Tonala—you can feel a terrific spiritual strength that is rising like a tide in Mexico."

Senate investigation: A good idea covered with peanut politics.

John Masfield to be the voice of the human hunger for freedom under the encroachments of the machine. There is a profound appropriateness," continues The News, "in the crowning during a MacDonald ministry of the discover of glory and power under the dirt and grime, the toil and the misfortune." The News concludes: "He needed no laurelship to make him famous, or to rise to his country's needs. Looking upon her ships, he could say of himself, 'I touch with country's mind, I come to grips with half her purpose.' Looking upon her people, their joy and their tragedy, he could behold the image of life's need, beauty in hardest action, beauty indeed."

His selection "ought to satisfy nearly all schools of literary taste and thought," thinks the KALAMAZOO GAZETTE, paying the tribute: "Masfield is unquestionably one of the foremost contemporary poets in the English language. Unlike his predecessor, the late and scholarly Dr. Robert Bridges, he may be classified to some extent as a 'poet of the people,' yet his verse has all the form and polish of the accomplished stylist."

"He has drunk life to the dregs," says the HAMILTON, ONT., SPECIALIST, adding the verdict: "The appointment will be a very popular one; for the new poet laureate is known by his verses in all classes of people."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

INDIAN INFLUENCES.

Harry Carr tells some about what the Spaniards found in Mexico in the Los Angeles Times.

"Hidden in a very old church in the very old Indian town of Tonala is a very old document that few eyes have seen."

"It is the treaty between Alvarado, the Spanish conquistador and Juichipil, the 'white queen' of the Tonalas."

"When the Spanish first came up from the conquest of Montezuma, across the high plateaus where Grand alajara now stands, they were amazed to find a tribe of Indians engaged in making the most beautiful native pottery. It was a race of high spiritual knowledge."

"It was ruled by a white woman who lived on the top of a round mountain."

"Alvarado brought this race down to defeat by the simple and effective device of nagging at them and threatening them with attack so constantly that they could not plant crops. Starvation finally brought them to surrender. In old Spanish documents that still exist, Alvarado tells with what skill Queen Juichipil fenced with him in the making of the treaty. He does not tell, however, that he and his successors broke all the terms thereof."

"The hill where Juichipil's palace stood is now a semi-sacred place. The pottery makers of Tonala find their clay at its foot."

"Juichipil's hill looks down upon a beautiful lake whose Indian name is 'The Tear in the Heart of the Mountain.'"

"Mexican people in general have a very small realization of the importance of this Indian background to their own future. Just as we have little realization in the United States that all our 'new thought' and the 'new' philosophy toward which we are reaching is all Indian, and that we are being bent under the weight of an inevitable law—the conqueror must always take on the spiritual psychology of the conquered."

"Those who know the Indians of Mexico best tell me that the old beliefs in the old Aztec gods are still in their hearts."

Large Crowd At Concert Sunday

Many Music Lovers Hear Thomas Webber And Lillian Butcher Stambaugh At Cathedral

Lovers of good music showed their appreciation of the efforts of the New Castle Consistory, in providing the series of free Sunday afternoon concerts on the Greer Memorial organ, when they thronged the Cathedral Sunday afternoon for the first of the series.

The auditorium was well filled by an appreciative audience. Mr. Webber playing a program which not only demonstrated his fine artistic ability, but also brought forth the full power of the huge organ.

He was assisted in his presentations by Lillian Butcher Stambaugh, of Youngstown, an accomplished soprano. She sang several difficult numbers which employed the full range of her beautiful voice.

Mr. Webber, who is a member of the New Castle Consistory, will be heard in a recital for members at the reunion this week. He is organist and choirmaster at the First Presbyterian church.

The consistory plans more of these concerts in the future, announcement of which will be made later.

Autos Figure In 5046 Accidents At Crossings In Year

Automobiles figured in 5,046 out of 5,800 accidents at highway grade crossings in 1929, with a toll of 2,165 deaths and 6,218 injured, according to

Mr. Bolsinger bases his statement on figures just received from the Safety Department of the A. A. A., which have just been compiled.

"As compared with the two proceeding years, there was a considerable increase in the number of derailments of trains as a result of collisions between trains and automobiles," he continued. "During the year there were 50 such derailments, causing the death of 22 persons and the injury of 47."

The A. A. A. Club executive pointed out that there is a marked increase from year to year in the number of accidents involving automobiles, despite the intensive drives for safety and efforts to safeguard highway grade crossings.

"There were a total of 4,970 grade crossing accidents involving automobiles in 1927," as asserted, "with a death toll of 2,062 and 6,358 persons injured. In the year 1928 there were 4,857 such accidents, with a death toll of 1,974 and 6,068 persons injured."

Yet, to be polite,
She said:

A cold good-night ... was "B.O." the reason?

TOO LATE to ask him in? Why, it was only 10 o'clock. There must be another reason. Why had she turned so at first—then suddenly distant.

Now he knows the reason—knows

It ruins romance
Many a budding romance has been wrecked because one or the other of the couple was careless about "B.O." Of course no one means to offend. But it's so easy to be guilty and not know it.

Pores give off a quart of odor-causing perspiration. We quickly become so used to this ever-present odor that we don't notice it in ourselves. But others do!

Why take chances when the remedy is

Vets Are Planning For Ninth Annual Buddy Poppy Sale

Poppies Will Be Sold On Streets
Here Next Saturday For Veterans' Relief

Arrangements have been practically completed by Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars for their ninth annual Buddy Poppy sale, which will be conducted on Saturday,
May 24.

The poppy was introduced to the American public nine years ago as a symbol of sacrifices made by America's dead in the World War. Its origin is traced to the famous poppies of Flanders fields, the little blood-red blossoms that dotted the fields of France and survived bombardments of opposing guns, when all else was withered and destroyed by the intense shell fire.

Poets and song writers have made the poppy an inseparable memory in connection with tributes to the nation's dead. When the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. back in 1922, introduced to America, poppies made in France, the public immediately gave recognition to the ideals which these poppies symbolized. The demand for additional poppies the following year became so great that they were produced in this country.

This brought about the plan of the V. F. W. Buddy Poppies, made by disabled men of the World War, the men who were still in the hospitals, incapacitated by wounds and illness as a result of their service. It offered these men a source of income that provided little luxuries unknown to hospital regulations. Hospital officials found that these patients enjoyed the work, which served to concentrate their attention and soothe their nerves, thus giving added impetus to their convalescence.

Is Enjoying Fifteen Days Naval Leave

Clifford Butts, son of J. H. Butts, of 501 W. Cherry street, of the U. S.
S. Tennessee, is home on a fifteen day leave. He is in the aviation division of the navy. He came to New York from San Diego, California, with the Pacific fleet, arriving in New York May 9.
On Friday morning, Clifford will leave on his way back to join the fleet at Hampton Roads, Virginia. He expects to stop over in Washington, D.
C., for a few days. The fleet will go back to San Pedro by the way of the Panama Canal and will arrive in that city June 23. When the fleet arrives there, the planes will leave the ship immediately for San Diego. Butts will be at the U. S. naval air station in San Diego six or eight months before the planes return to the ships again.
Clifford enlisted in the navy May 1, 1929.

day evening.

They are busy getting ready for these

Peter's Adventures

BULLYING THE BULLY

For at least once in his life the Despot, who had spent his life in scaring others to death, was frightened half out of his wits. Swift as a streak of greased lightning the Despot shot forward to a distance where he believed himself out of danger, then turned and looked curiously about him to find out who had spoken.

"Ha, ha! You'll never find me running away!" called Peter, delighted with the success of his trick. "Ho, no, what a tale to tell—the Despot turns tail and flies!"

Despot was angry and his cruel eyes searched the water, at which Peter laughed the louder.

"Keep on looking where you will never find me!" cried he. "I am not a water creature."

"Then who are you?" shrieked the Despot.

"I am a Land monster!" chuckled
Peter. "Come on out and meet me."
"I'd come fast enough if I could!"
retorted the Despot.

"That would suit me!" Peter giving saucy. "Do you know what would happen if you put a claw on land?
I would seize you and take you home as my captive. How would you like that?"

"Not a bit!" shrieked the Despot, his voice shaking with fright. "Who are you and why do you threaten me?
I never have done you any harm, have I?"

"No sir, I've kept out of your way!" replied the boy, determined to give the Despot a good lesson. "But you have attacked many of my friends, and he who harms my friends harms me."

Next: "Fair Warning."

FAMILY DOCTOR LEARNED THIS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

years of practice convince him many were ruining their health by careless selection of laxatives. He determined to write a harmless prescription which would get at the cause of constipation and correct it.

Today, the prescription he wrote in 1885 is the world's most popular laxative! He prescribed a mixture of herbs and other pure ingredients now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, in thousands of cases where bad breath, coated tongue, gas, headaches, biliousness and lack of appetite or energy showed the bowels of men, women and children were sluggish. It proved successful in even the most obstinate cases; old folks liked it for it never gripped; children liked its pleasant taste. All drugstores today have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in bottles.

Playground Stream Polluted, Steen Says

Dr. William L. Steen, municipal health officer, today advised council which convened formally at city hall, that the stream which flows through the west side playground, rear of Smithfield street is polluted by sewage from several homes in Union township.

The health officer recommended that the homes be permitted to connect with the city sanitary sewer system.

Council requested Union township supervisors to confer with them Friday morning for discussion of the proposed connection.

HOLD UP BILL

When solons met today council held off until next week payment of $640

N. Y. Mother Finds A Real Weight Builder at Last

If you are tired of being bony, scrawny and weak, read how Mrs. Henry A. Thaler of Richmond Hill, N. Y., and her daughter gained weight and improved their figures.

"The writer of this letter and my daughter, Viola, have both used McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets for seven weeks, and in that time I have gained 4 pounds and am more full of pep than ever. Viola has gained 3 pounds and she is beginning to get wonderful color in her face."

The reason is that McCoy's are genuine cod liver oil extract tablets. That is the same as saying that like the Norwegian cod liver oil from which they are made, McCoy's are hundreds of times richer in flesh and strength-producing vitamins than even milk, eggs, butter or cream.

So take advantage of McKee's, Eckerd's, Love & Megown's offer of the safe, pleasant, easy, inexpensive way to gain the weight and energy you need. McCoy's must give any man, woman or child the increased weight desired or money refunded. Just ask for McCoy's—60 tablets 60 cents.

WILLIAM McELWEE, JR.

To the Republicans of the Second District:

On last Saturday I learned that three women from Ellwood City, in the interests of my last-minute opponent from Ellwood City, have been going around over the second district of Lawrence County spreading false reports about me and my position on prohibition. A few days ago I heard that they had been in Wampum, but did not know that they were attempting a general canvass.

These reports are false and untrue. My position on this matter was published in this paper on April 5. The spreading of false, slanderous and malicious reports is contemptible politics. Surely fair-minded people will not be influenced by such things.

In the light of these reports, I find great satisfaction in the almost unanimous endorsement of the voters of my home town of New Wilmington, where I have lived for more than forty-six years. This endorsement was published in The News a short time ago. Every minister in New Wilmington; Dr. W. Charles Wallace, the president, with the entire faculty (so far as qualified to vote) of my Alma Mater, Westminster College; very many business associates and social friends to a total number of 451, including Mrs. W. R. Thompson, Miss Jannette Shafer and Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry, who have known me well from childhood, have joined in that endorsement.

Also I find great satisfaction in the unsolicited endorsement of the Men's Brotherhood of the Methodist Episcopal Church of New Wilmington, (I have been a member of the United Presbyterian Church for forty years and an elder for more than twenty-three years) and the unsolicited endorsement of the Ministerial Association signed by Dr. S. A. Kirkbride, Pastor-at-large of the Presbyterian Church, who has known me well for considerably more than a quarter of a century. Said endorsement which was published by said association in the New Wilmington Globe, on April 30th, follows:

The Ministers association of New Wilmington area in regular meeting Tuesday evening, April 29, after careful consideration of the great moral importance of the present political situation, unanimously endorsed Mr. William McElwee, Jr., as the Republican candidate for the assembly in the second district of Lawrence county to be nominated at the primary May 20.

Furthermore, all citizens are earnestly urged to go to the polls on that day and cast their ballots for reliable candidates.

Dr. S. A. Kirkbride, Pres.

It was not necessary for me to go to Beaver County to get my endorsement.

The campaign is over. I have tried to be fair with all my opponents. If it is necessary for me to cause lies to be spread about my opponents in order to go to the Assembly, I do not desire to go bad enough to do it. "With malice toward none", and with charity even for my misguided opponent and his equally misguided associates, I submit my case on its merits.

I respectfully ask you to vote for me tomorrow.

Efforts To Save Shade Trees Described At Rotary By
P. & O. Expert

R. J. Preston, of Youngstown, chief of the forestry department of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric company whose primary function it is to protect the shade trees of our city, described the work of his division before the New Castle Rotary club, today.

Time was when scarcely any attention was given to the trees, but the P. & O. company has recognized the importance of this, the necessity for keeping trees trimmed and caring for their growth. Trained experts are in the employ of the department and give full-time service to the work.

The address of Mr. Preston was appropriate to the topic discussed today, "The City Beautiful". Several Rotarians spoke for the preservation of our trees. The program was arranged under the auspices of the civic activities committee.

Before the meeting adjourned, the club elected T. W. McCullough, incoming president of the club, as a delegate to the convention of International Rotary which occurs at Chicago June 23, 24 and 25.

Reading Lions On Road To Recovery

Victims Of Auto Smashup After Convention Here Convalescing Rapidly

In a letter received today from District Governor-elect Daniel A. Kramer, Reading, it became known that Kramer, his wife and the entire party of Lions hurt in a crash while enroute home following the state convention here less than two weeks ago are at present recuperating as fast as possible.

Mrs. Phillip Howard, wife of the president of the Reading Lions club and who sustained more serious injuries than the rest said to be expected to live. Doctors are doubtful, however, as to what her mental condition will be if she recovers.

Mrs. Howard sustained what is believed to have been a fractured skull, while the Kramer's and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wahl, the other occupants suffered only minor fractures and bruises.

Kramer writes that it was a terrible way to end up such a happy convention, especially as they had traveled 310 miles, with only 14 miles separating them from home.

Members of the Philathea class of the First Baptist church will meet this evening with Miss Verlee E. Armstrong, at her home, 109 East street.

Delivers Lecture On Christian Science

Sunday afternoon at the Cathedral Judge Samuel W. Green, member of the board of lectureship of the mother church of the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Mass., delivered a lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Government by Divine Law."

Judge Green said in part as follows:

One of the first impressions that comes to the beginner in Christian Science is one of satisfaction in finding a religious teaching that is exact—that is really scientific and in accord with law.

The discoverer and founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, in her book, "Rudimentary Divine Science" (p. 1), defines Christian Science as the law of God, the law of good, interpreting and demonstrating the divine principle and rule of universal harmony.

The Discoverer and Founder. This use of legal phraseology to define Christian Science may be an indication of how earnestly and broadly Mrs. Eddy studied and searched to discover the basis of Jesus' healing method.

To turn to the Bible for help was her last hope after a long and fruitless search for health among material remedies. Turning to God as she did with hope and faith she quickly saw the healing power manifested in restored health.

She then applied herself to a study of the Bible that she might know the scientific basis of her healing. As she studied, the Scriptures were illuminated, and she saw and understood how healing depends upon a knowledge of God, as is evidenced in one of Jesus' most comprehensive promises. "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent." She saw that all of Jesus' healings came through his reliance upon God. She saw that Jesus claimed no exclusive right to do spiritual healing but that the same healing power could be exercised by all who believed on him—that is, understood the Christ. Thus was she led unerringly to the discovery that this scientific healing is in accord with divine law. Therefore, its practice is not limited, but is available for every earnest seeker after God who adheres to the plan outlined in Christian Science.

Although Mrs. Eddy, at the time of her discovery of Christian Science, was what the world calls middle aged, she was able to give more than 40 years of active service to the foundation and promotion of her discovery. Her undisputed ability and efficiency as a really great leader have been recognized and fittingly acknowledged by many editors and men of affairs outside the Christian Science movement. That she is held in the highest and tenderest esteem by the great host of Christian Scientists is plainly evidenced in the oral testimonials on Wednesday evenings in Christian Science churches girdling the globe, and by written testimonials constantly appearing in the Christian Science periodicals.

The Textbook. For the purpose of enabling the Bible student to understand its spiritual import and significance, and to elucidate the practical operation of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy wrote the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures."

At first the book evoked a storm of criticism from medical, religious and scientific sources, but gradually, as faithful men and women studied it, some under the author's tutelage, others independently, and began to apply its teachings, the healing of sin, disease and other human problems resulted. Today spiritual healing, as practiced in Christian Science, is generally recognized as possible and of common occurrence. Indeed some medical men are sending the so-called incurables to Christian Science, and many preachers are advocating a study of spiritual healing. The Christian Science textbook is now well known in most libraries of any importance. It has been the agency through which great numbers of invalids and unfortunate have found health, happiness and comfort.

A study of this book unfolds to humanity the spiritual interpretation of the Bible, thus justifying that portion of the "Key to the Scriptures," God. The first consideration in the study and practice of Christian Science, and that upon which the whole theory is founded, is a correct spiritual understanding of God. By spiritual understanding is meant that concept of Him which removes consideration of the subject absolutely out of the material realm of thought. A correct concept of God can never be had from the basis of matter, and until one's thought of God is separated and distinguished from a material concept, his religious experience can never be wholly satisfactory.

In Christian Science, God is understood to be infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love.

The concept of God as Principle enables us to realize His presence and power as ever available. It does not locate God in a heaven far removed from earth and human experience, but gives us the sweet assurance that at all times and under all circumstances He is present and His omnipotence available for the solution of our every problem. It is in effect, the adoption of the first Commandment in its full meaning. It is a refusal to concede power to another than God thus allowing no other gods before Him.

Man. Closely related to a consideration of God's nature and being is the thought of what man really is. Christian Science adopts the theory of creation as unfolded in the first chapter of Genesis, that man is created in God's image and likeness and is therefore spiritual. Jesus says, "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." This certainly implies that we must know God—must apprehend Him—understand Him—in spirit and in truth. The average person, when he stops to consider, will generally agree that he can know God only through spiritual apprehension or understanding—he does not expect to see God with the human eye or touch Him with the hand. Then man, in His image and likeness, must as certainly be apprehended or understood spiritually. No more than God can be materially perceived, can the man of God's creation be so perceived. It is true that we have been accustomed to think more commonly of man as material, but for a proper concept of God's creation, we are compelled to overcome this theory, and rise to an understanding of man's being image or idea of God—of Spirit. Many Inches And Pounds Are Lost By Reducing Class

Successful Health Term Is Ended At Y. W. C. A. This Week

Exactly 366 pounds were lost by members of reducing classes at the Y. W. C. A. in the past 28 weeks. Miss Dorothy Stewart, health director, announced this morning. The period of 28 weeks includes two terms of health classes.

A total of 191 pounds was lost by a class of women in this last gym term or 14 weeks. The greatest individual for the 14 weeks was 24 1-4 pounds, and that is a record to be proud of. A twofold program, diet and exercise did it.

Not only pounds were lost by the reducing classes, but inches also. Believe it or not, Mr. Ripley, but these women lost exactly 171 inches or 4 3-4 yards, by a sensible amount of exercise and studied diets.

One lady made a chest decrease of 3 1-2 inches. Another lost 5 inches from her waist line. Another lost 4 inches from the hips and one inch from the calves of her feet.

All health and gym classes for this term ended this week.

North Jefferson Street Dump Burns

Fire Starting In Refuse Pile Sunday Morning Is Still Burning Today

Fire which started in a dump heap at the end of Park avenue on North Jefferson street, early Sunday morning, is still burning this afternoon, in spite of efforts made by local firemen to extinguish the fire, and will probably burn for several days.

Neighbors called the firemen at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, when the flames blazed thirty feet into the air from a pile of old boxes, cardboard and the like, which had been placed at the edge of the dump.

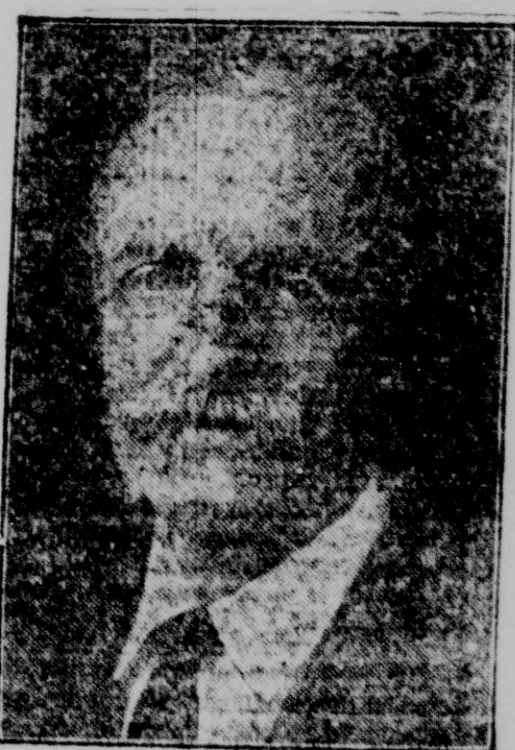

Firemen from Central and Park avenue responded and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze, but it had worked its way back beneath the ground, and continued to smoulder all day, in spite of the fact that firemen had poured water onto the smouldering pile continuously for 19 hours. Shortly after darkness fell, firemen gave up the job as it was difficult for them to see what they were doing and with rain falling, there was little danger of it bursting into blaze or communicating to any adjoining houses, which were some distance removed.

This morning, they renewed their efforts to extinguish the blaze, but seemed to be making but little headway.

The fire is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion.

Stock Market Speculation Was Done With "All Propriety"

(International News Service)
DALLAS, Tex., May 19.—Opening its third week of activities, the twenty-first quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in session here, today turned eyes to the committee of episcopacy from which a report was momentarily expected on its findings in connection with the charges of alleged stock market activities filed against Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Virginia.

Although Dr. Frank P. Sulzer, chairman, promised that the final report of the committee would be forthcoming today, the possibility of a day's delay loomed when it was learned that the committee last Saturday night decided to hold another meeting this afternoon.

Meanwhile, it was reported from an authoritative source that Bishop Cannon appeared before the committee at the Saturday night session and defended his transaction with a New York brokerage house. He was reported as saying he believed his trading was "perfectly legitimate" and was done with "all propriety."

Shivering from the cold rain falling at the time, the scantily clad guests were forced to take refuge in a church next door where a shelter was hastily improvised for them.

New Church Formally Dedicated Sunday

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, CLENMORE BOULEVARD AND ALBERT STREET

The first and another time later in the service, entitled "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," featured the service and were most delightful.

The service of dedication came toward the middle of the service, with Dr. Irvine and the congregation reading the passages alternatively.

Dr. W. C. Wallace, president of

DR. S. E. IRVINE
Pastor of First United Presbyterian Church.

Westminster college offered the dedicatory prayer after the service of dedication.

Dedicatory Sermon

The dedicatory sermon, preached by the Rev. W. I. Wishart, D. D., of Pittsburgh had as its theme, "The Glory of the House." It was a stirring sermon, inspirational and stimulating. He spoke of the beautiful new building now completed, saying that the glory of the house is in its many facilities. "This beautiful building of yours is wonderfully adapted for all types of worship and for the advancement of things social and educational, and also distinctly worshipful. The service which your congregation renders to the community in which it has been erected will be the 'glory of the house.'"

Opportunity for anyone to subscribe to the expenses of the congregation was given before the service closed. John P. Lockhart spoke for the finance committee and related the financial condition of the church.

First Sunday School Service

Preceding yesterday morning's service, Sunday school was held in the new classrooms with J. Lee McFate, general superintendent and members of the newly organized cabinet in charge. The school was conducted for the first time in a most commendable manner. Attendance figures disclosed that more than 400 had attended the opening day's classes. Many new members attended.

Members of the Second, Third and Highland United Presbyterian church united with the First church last night for the evening dedicatory service, with each of the ministers participating.

Dr. Wishart again preached in the evening taking "Masters of Circumstance" as his subject. His text was taken from Romans 12: 21: "Be not overcome with evil, but overcome evil with good." Here Dr. Wishart pointed out how the First congregation had mastered its circumstances and had built for themselves this beautiful church.

A beautiful soprano solo, entitled "Hear Ye O Israel" was sung by Miss Ruth Drescher, while the quartet contributed another number, "The Lord Is My Light."

Other Pastors Speak

Dr. A. J. Randles, pastor of the Second church offered a prayer towards the opening of the service; the scripture lesson was read by the Rev. S. B. Copeland, while Dr. C. J. Williamson, pastor of the Highland church offered a prayer following the sermon of Dr. Wishart.

Joint services were held by the Young People's Christian Union societies of the four different churches in the assembly hall of the new church before the service last night. Miss Lucille Emery, representing the Highland church, and Robert Gillilan of the host church led the meeting. The theme discussed was "Co-operation." Special musical numbers featured.

Program Tonight

The schedule of the community and inspection night program this evening, as arranged, follows:

Greetings from New Castle Ministerial association by the president, the Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector, Trinity Episcopal church.
Greetings from synod by the syno-

Social hour and inspection of the buildings.

Formal dedication of the newly installed organ will occur Tuesday night when Julian Williams, of Sewickley, presents his recital, with Mrs. Carolyn Mahaffey, contralto, of Pittsburgh, assisting. The recital will start at 8 o'clock, as will the other services of the week.

Wednesday night has been set aside as Young People's night, and young people from all over the entire Beaver valley district will participate. Preaching service on Thursday and Friday evenings will wind up the week's observance. Dr. James Ferguson, Bellevue, will preach Thursday night while Dr. R. L. Lanning, editor of the Christian Union Herald, United Presbyterian publication will occupy the pulpit Friday night. Both are former pastors of the congregation.

IS IT EVER RIGHT TO BE A REBEL—An emphatic protest against conditions is rebellion against conditions—we protest and rebel against existing conditions brought about by the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act—we refuse to answer yes to the following inquiries:—

ATTORNEY GENERAL MITCHELL, testifying before the STATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE, said that Federal prisons are so overcrowded, due largely to prohibition convictions, that enforcement of the dry law by the DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE must slow down pending action of Congress to provide additional penal facilities. This means that by reason of the Amendment and the Volstead Act our Government does not have sufficient prison room for the persons made convicts by reason of their enactment.

The Government is enlarging the Federal prison at Leavenworth to make room for more convicts. The Federal prisons are crowded beyond their capacity.

QUESTION—If your child was suffering from cold or corns would you agree that the Government should take him away from you and treat him in a Government institution?

QUESTION—Do you believe that if a husband was carrying a pint of whiskey home to his sick wife that he should be arrested, convicted and put in the Penitentiary at Leavenworth or Atlanta along with murderers and thieves?

You would protest against these things.

Immediately after the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment it was proclaimed by many persons favoring the Amendment that jails would be emptied and the country freed from drunkenness. That has not happened. The Federal Government has been advised by its Attorney General that it should not enforce the law because there are no prison accommodations for the convicts. The jails of Allegheny, Armstrong and many other counties are being used by the Federal Government for incarceration of persons convicted of violating the Volstead Act, notwithstanding they are already filled to repletion with persons convicted for violating the Snyder Act. Women with babies in their arms have been sentenced; parents with children, left without means of support, have been sentenced. Many persons of good standing as citizens in the community where they lived have been sentenced. These persons, at the expiration of their terms, have come to their homes branded as convicts. Their prospects in life have been blighted.

QUESTION—Do you believe that full jails are a credit to the Government?

QUESTION—Do you believe that Government should crowd its jails and penitentiaries with people who have been regarded as good citizens in their communities because they have done a thing that has been regarded as legal from time immemorial?

QUESTION—Do you believe that the Government should make convicts of persons for doing a thing that was not regarded as immoral for many centuries prior to the formation of our Government and continuously since that time until the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment?

Noah was temperate. There was wine at Caanan in Galilee. THE BEST BOOK IN THE WORLD suggested taking a little wine for your stomach's sake. The same book advised temperance in all things.

QUESTION—Do you believe that the builder of the Ark should have been sent to the Penitentiary?

QUESTION—Do you believe that the miracle at Caanan should have subjected the performer of that miracle to penal servitude?

QUESTION—Do you believe that each person attending the wedding at Caanan in Galilee should have been taken before an alderman, bound over to the court of quarter sessions, and sentenced to servitude in the jail, workhouse or penitentiary?

QUESTION—Do you believe that the children of the people who attended the wedding at Caanan should have been branded as the children of criminals?

History has branded the French revolution as a disgrace to humanity. We have personal knowledge of the result of the recent revolution in Russia. The ruling classes in France and in Russia gave no heed to the demands of the people. As in France and Russia, so under the Eighteenth Amendment the poorer people are the greater sufferers.

QUESTION—Should the demands of the poorer people be ignored by the governing classes?

QUESTION—Where conditions have existed from time immemorial and have been regarded as legal and legitimate is the jail and the penitentiary the best means for remedying the evils?

We believe in temperance. We do not believe in prohibition. We believe in the teachings of the scriptures. "Be ye temperate in all things." We believe in temperance in legislation. The Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act are intemperate.

QUESTION—Do you believe the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act are intemperate legislation? We believe this. We believe such legislation has no place on our statute books. A vote for Bohlen, Phillips and Dorrance would be your answers to the above questions.

Bank Bandits Are Captured

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
NULLTOWN, Ind., May 19.—Two bandits who raided the Farmers State Bank at Metamora, a $125,000 institution, and cleaned it out this morning, after a gunfight with Cashier George Leonard, were captured by a big posse a half mile east of here just before noon today.

The capture was made after the outlaws wrecked their car which bore an Ohio license, and after Sheriff Charles Woodward wounded one of the bandits.

Both desperadoes were found hiding behind some driftwood across the White Water river from here. The loot, which has not yet been determined, was recovered from the wrecked machine.

Addison, Pa., Fire Is $50,000 Damage

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 19.—Firemen from three nearby communities battled a blaze that caused $50,000 property damage in Addison, a small town 20 mile east of here, early today.

Four buildings were destroyed by flames and two residences damaged. The First National Bank building, a two-story brick structure; the two-story frame Odd Fellows hall, the Dean building, housing a restaurant, poolroom and storeroom, and the Dean residence, were destroyed.

Lack of water handicapped firemen from Uniontown, Confluence and Meyersdale. Soon after the Confluence firemen, first on the scene, arrived, the wells were pumped dry.

The bank will open tomorrow in temporary quarters. Its currency and papers, in a vault, were not damaged.

CLAIMS TEN HERBS PROVED WONDERFUL

More and more men and women are praising Ten Herbs, the new herbal medicine, whose ten natural ingredients go promptly and gently to the source of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neu-ritis and nervousness. And that is not all—Ten Herbs drives out old poisons and impurities and stimulates the vital organs to new life and activity. It is also the best spring tonic ever made.

"I am always ready to give your wonderful Ten Herbs a lot of praise because of the way it relieved my stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders," said Mr. John Behr, 217 Sixteenth Street, Beaver Falls, Pa. "I am feeling fine, since taking your medicine—could not feel any better. I used to be troubled with dizziness, and if I bent over and straightened up quickly, my kidneys hurt me. Constipation bothered me, and my liver was out of order. At times there were pains, like rheumatism, through my back. Food did not digest right. Gas bloated me and I think it caused the pains I had in my chest. Certain food distressed me. A sour substance would come up in my throat, and I was troubled with shortness of breath.

"Ten Herbs was so well recommended that I started taking it. My liver, kidneys and bowels were benefited, and I was agreeably surprised the way my energy increased. Dizzy spells and the pains in my back have been relieved. My stomach is in such good condition that I can eat anything without having distress—no more gas, bloating, pains in the chest, or shortness of breath. My whole system has been toned up. I sleep well. I gladly recommend your medicine to others."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, and is sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Boy Accidentally Struck By Bullet

Accident Occurs On Saturday Afternoon In South Side
District

Jimmy Moses, aged 14, 15 West Long avenue, is in the New Castle hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in the left shoulder near the jugular vein, sustained late Saturday afternoon, when struck by a bullet from a 22 calibre rifle in the hands of Ray Canistra, aged 17, 815 Lathrop street. His injury is not considered serious.

The shooting, according to the information secured by Detective C. G. Logan and Officer Robert Dukes, occurred in an orchard across Big Run Creek from Howard Way.

Canistra, Lewis Elasco, owner of the rifle and a boy named Bud were trying out some bullets, which Canistra had brought from the B. and O. camp at Youngstown, where he is employed and which he found lying about there.

Canistra was shooting at a bird, when he hit Moses. The injured boy was removed to a doctors office and then to the hospital, where X-ray pictures showed that his injuries were not serious. No arrests have been made and none are likely, the police say.

Unprecedented Action Taken By Committee In Pennsylvania Primary

Senate Campaign Fund Committee Takes Steps To

District Attorneys Of Three Counties Ordered To Impound Ballots If Necessary

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—After ordering ballots impounded in three Pennsylvania counties at the first sign of irregularities in Tuesday's election, the senate campaign fund committee met today to determine whether additional steps should be taken to prevent fraud in the contest between senator Joseph R. Grundy and Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for the republican senatorial nomination.

Several members of the committee may take the unprecedented action of visiting Pennsylvania on Tuesday, election day, to watch for evidence of fraud and corruption. This move has been under consideration ever since the committee's special investigators in Pennsylvania reported there were rumors that frauds would be attempted in the election. Thus far, the committee has not revealed whose organization was accused of these plans.

Ballots to be Impounded
The committee already has taken one entirely unprecedented action, in ordering the county attorneys in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Scranton to impound ballots in event of frauds. The attorneys were warned particularly to watch for belated returns, since it had been reported that one of the opposing organizations would seek to delay and change the results in the three cities named.

Following the Keystone State's 1926 election, similar charges were made by friends of the late Edward E. Beidleman who lost the republican gubernatorial nomination to governor John S. Fisher. Beidleman himself filed a court action in Pittsburgh, alleging that returns there had been altered to give Fisher a sufficient majority to win the election.

This contest was abandoned when Beidleman found he could not get an immediate hearing.

The committee has taken so many steps to watch the pending primary that senatorial observers anticipate another election contest from Pennsylvania if there is any doubt about the outcome. That was the case in 1926 and the senate excluded William S. Vare, because of his primary, although decided that he was legally elected over his democratic opponent in the succeeding general election.

The first murder was at Unionville, where authorities said Joseph Volenti, 26, with a police record, was stood up in a vacant lot and riddled with bullets.

The second was a double slaying near the Penny bridge, where two young men were found face down on the sidewalk, their backs drilled with bullets. Neither has been identified.

Volenti was dressed in deep mourning and police said he may have been on his way to or from a funeral or ordered to dress in mourning by his executioners.

DELEGATES BACK FROM LANCASTER

At the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Lancaster, Pa., May 16-18, Dr. Mildred Rogers of New Castle was re-elected president of the Federation for 1930-1931. Other officers re-elected were Jane Marshall, Harrisburg, vice president; Katherine Remler, Meadville, recording secretary; Ada Fox, Reading, corresponding secretary; Susan Rhodes, Columbia, treasurer.

Those attending from the New Castle B. P. W. C. were Dr. Mildred Rogers, state president; Nancy Bechtel, president of the local club; Effie Butz, state director; Lucile Luton, Mary Wilson and Nance Pugh, delegates; Genevieve Riddle, Ruth Zerner and Alice Sterling, alternates; Charlotte Emery, Helen Hinkson and Violet Hund.

Guest speakers at the convention were Miss Lena Madson Phillips, New York City, honorary national president; John Gregg Paine, board of Music Publishers Protective Association; Dr. Lewis E. Theiss, professor of Journalism, Bucknell University; Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, Harrisburg, deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania.

Outstanding events of the convention were the May pageant and party staged by the B. P. W. C. of Columbia, Pa., the banquet at which Eliza S. Paine of the Lancaster club acted as toastmistress and Miss Phillips was the guest speaker, and the luncheon at the Brunswick, at which the Harrisburg club was hostess, providing a delightful musical program and Dr. Theiss and Miss O'Hara as speakers.

The registration was 303, the largest registration at any state convention of the B. P. W. C.

The Saturday evening banquet was a gala event, the ballroom of the Hotel Brunswick, Lancaster, having been turned into an outside garden by the addition of Spanish awnings, Japanese lanterns and flowers in profusion. This event was the climax of the convention, places being marked for over 300 delegates and members of the clubs from all over the state. The emblem breakfast Sunday morning closed the official convention and the members from various parts of the state departed for their homes throughout Sunday afternoon and evening.

Passing through early squalls and thunder showers, the Zeppelin had broken through to clearer weather and was making good time.

There were 64 persons in all on board. The Graf was carrying a crew of 42 officers and men.

An earlier message from the Graf said:

Heavy Mail Cargo.
"The Graf passed Besancon at 9 p. m. after a smooth flight and a beautiful sunset. All is well on board."

The big airship has more than 100,000 letters and postcards on board for passage to Brazil and the United States. Expected late this afternoon at Seville, the Graf will be moored to a mast especially erected for the purpose and take off for the 5,000 mile stretch to Pernambuco, Brazil, will be made early Tuesday morning.

PRIMARY BATTLE OUTCOME PUZZLES ALL PARTY HEADS

the candidate of the Vore machine; or Francis H. Bohlen, the thoroughly wet law professor at the University of Pennsylvania, there is like to be a tremendous fuss about it.

Money Flows Freely

Money has flowed in this Pennsylvania campaign as of yore. All the senatorial candidates, as well as the aspirants for governor, Clifford Pinchot, Francis Shunk Brown, and ex-congressman Thomas W. Phillips, are wealthy men. All are backed by organizations of wealthy men. And the political dictatorship of wealthy Pennsylvania is at stake in tomorrow's test.

Senator Gerald P. Nye, (R) of North Dakota, chairman of the senate campaign funds investigating committee, already has put Pennsylvania on notice. He has made a personal trip of inspection; he has sent a warning telegram to district attorneys; he has suggested the impounding of ballot boxes to prevent fraud; and he has in every way indicated the senate's conduct of this unprecedented Keystone primary.

All of which hasn't helped the confidence or the sense of well being on the part of any of the candidates concerning tomorrow. The gubernatorial candidates, of course are immune from the senate's censure or authority, with the senatorial candidates it is another matter. And all of the latter are, directly or indirectly, linked up with the gubernatorial aspirants.

Various States

Davis and Brown comprise the Vore slate; Phillips and Bohlen compose the anti-prohibition ticket; and Grundy and Pinchot, while not formally allied with the others, have nevertheless been forced into the same political bed through the natural circumstances, and their joint hatred of what they term "The Philadelphia Gang" and the activities of Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, who is supporting Davis and Brown.

The eve of the balloting finds all candidates loudly proclaiming victory and secretly wondering just what is going to happen tomorrow when some two million Pennsylvanians trek to the polls.

All the old landmarks and guideposts which used to enable the canny republican leaders in Pennsylvania to forecast an election contest to the nicety of a gnat's heel have gone by the boards in this bitter battle of cross-currents.

Davis-Brown Strong in Allegheny

It is conceded on all sides that the Davis-Brown combination will come out of Allegheny county (Pittsburgh) with a majority. The consensus is, however, that this majority will speedily disappear as the vote proceeds eastward through the populous and wet industrial centers, and that Grundy and Pinchot will come down to the Philadelphia county line with a considerable lead. Then it will be up to the Vore organization to produce enough votes to overcome that lead. Four years ago when Vore won the nomination from Pinchot and Pepper, his city organization rolled up a whopping majority of 250,000 for him in Philadelphia county. He carried only two counties, Philadelphia and Dauphin (Harrisburg) out of the 67 in the state.

Not even the most sanguine Davis-Brown supporters expect the city machine to duplicate those 1926 figures for the Davis-Brown slate. There are too many wet votes in Philadelphia; likewise too many sincere admirers of "Uncle Joe" Grundy's tariff views.

Brown for governor probably will fare better in Philadelphia than Davis his running mate. Contrariwise, Davis probably will fare better out in the state than Brown, because of his labor and fraternal affiliations.

As a sideshow to the main event, there is a bitter fight for the republican leadership of the state, vacant now since the death of Boies Pen-

ESTES & BLUM DISSOLVE

Fisher's Purchase Great Portion of the Shirting Stock

One Of The Industries Oldest Mills Dissolve Partnership

With the announcement yesterday of the dissolution of the firm "Estes and Blum" the textile industry loses one of its oldest members. A member who renounced extends to every civilized country in the world.

For years "Estes and Blum" have been famous as textile weavers. Their mills manufacturing all types of piece goods. The major portion of their out put, however, was silk-striped materials which were used by almost every shirt manufacturer. No cause was given for the dissolution of this partnership, but it is rumored that one of the principle owners intended to retire while the other was considering entering the manufacturer field.

News of this decision first reached the manufacturing world when certain large manufacturers and chain stores were invited to attend a private clearance sale of the entire floor stock.

Large Chain Purchases 50,000 Yards of Shirting Material

Fisher Brothers, one of the largest Eastern chain stores, who specialize on Men's Furnishings, purchased 50,000 yards of shirtings in one block. When questioned by a news reporter, Mr. Agan, shirt buyer said, "We intended to have these materials made into shirts for us by leading Eastern shirt manufacturers. We will dictate the specifications and grade the materials to the type of makers." Mr. Agan went on to say that this would be a necessary step as their own factory was working to capacity and they wished to place the entire purchase on sale in all their stores in May, thru a great chain wide shirt sale. Proof of this was evidenced by the way the purchase was made. All grades, style and types of material were purchased. It is said that the purchase was made through a blanket agreement of 40% off list price, F. O. B. the mills.

"Humanity Week" Officially Opens Here Today

Community Chest Drive Opens Here

Siren Sounds A Long Blast At 9 O'Clock Officially Opening A Week Of Giving

BULLETIN BOARD TO SHOW PROGRESS MADE

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—Ellwood City's ninth annual Community Chest drive opened this morning with a long drawn out blast of the siren at 9 o'clock. Shortly after that a large fire truck bearing appropriate banners traversed the principal streets of the town calling attention to the fact that this week has been set aside by Burgess Turner as "Humanity Week" and now is the time to help the less fortunate.

The day's developments financially will be marked in a unique way on the bulletin board which has been erected on the lawn of the Central school building.

The Chest Drive will be shown as a football team composed of the following players: Hospital, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Disabled Veterans, Tuberculosis Clinic, Fresh Air Camp, Baby Clinic, Nutrition, Travelers' Aid and Nursing Service. The opposing team will comprise: Pain, Crime, Juvenile Delinquency, Human Wreckage, White Plague, Weaklings, Cripples, Starvation, Tramps and Carelessness. Whether the social burdens will be triumphant in the game against the Community betterment, will be seen at the end of the drive. There is little doubt, however, as to outcome, as Ellwood City has always gone over the top with a bang, and civic pride in the town will enable the citizens to come to the aid of the Community Chest drive this year. The budget for 1930 is $37,500 against $45,624.32 for last year. In lowering the amount the officials of the drive were cognizant of harder times and feel sure that Ellwood will rise to the occasion as usual.

The building and furnishings of the new addition to the hospital cost $12,047.92. To date $7,797.92 of that debt has been paid, leaving a balance of $3,250.00. This year the hospital will receive $21,000 of the total, thus paying off a larger slice of the debt.

In an interview with J. J. McLaughlin, chairman of the Publicity committee for this week, he stated that few people realize what is accomplished year by year by the Community Chest League, and for the benefit of those who are fortunate enough not to have to seek the charity of the League, the following statistics may throw considerable light on the League's activities during the past year:

Special Service At Lutheran Church

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—With a special evening service last night in the Trinity Lutheran church, the evening devotionals closed for the summer months. Members of the Women's Missionary society had charge of last night's service and present their annual India Lace Day program. There was a clever play entitled "Stretching Hands Across the Sea" by the following children: Marjorie Baker, Ruth McCabe, Jean Hunter, Jean Strohecker, Harry Wallace and Paul Zikali. The Primary chorus contributed three numbers and there was a fine attendance at the service.

Weekly events are listed as follows: All day Wednesday members of the Willing Workers society will conduct a meeting in the basement of the church.

Wednesday evening, members of the Women's Missionary society will conduct a monthly meeting in the church. The subject of discussion will be "World Missions and World Workers." Mrs. Carbeau and Mrs. Lee Whittemeyer have charge of the program and a report will be heard from delegates at the recent conference in Youngstown, Ohio.

Baptist Parsonage To Be Ready Soon

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—Repairs are under way in the former Baptist parsonage of the Baptist church here, to transform the home into a Ladies social parlor and four extra Sunday school rooms. The work is well under way and it is expected within the next three weeks. The cost of the work is estimated at $1800.

Thursday evening members of the Philathea class will conduct a monthly meeting in the church.

A great event is scheduled to take place in the church for three evenings beginning May 24, when Miss Betty Weakland, famous child Evangelist from Cleveland, will fill an engagement in the local church.

Interesting Service At Slippery Rock

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—Students of Geneva college took charge of the service Sunday evening in the Slippery Rock church. One member of the group of six students read the scriptures, another gave a fine address, while others contributed solos and piano selections.

The entire program was well-worked-out and interesting to hear.

Local Athletes Win Championship Over Many Schools With Total
Of 23½ Points

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—A blue and white fleet of Ellwood City high school athletes invaded Pittsburgh Saturday and came back home with the W. P. I. A. L. track and field crown, copping their second meet this year, as they secured the Beaver county championship a week ago. Coach Bartholomew's crew chalked up a grand total of 23½ points to dethrone Westinghouse high school of Pittsburgh from the top berth.

Following are the complete standings of the competing schools: Connelville, second, with 18 points; Peabody third with 17 points; New Castle fourth with 16 points; Beaver Falls fifth with 12 ½ points; Washington sixth with 12 1-4 points; Greensburg seventh with 11 points; Burgettstown eighth with 9 5-12 points; Clairton ninth with 9 2-3 points; Trinity of Washington and Westinghouse tied for 10th place with eight points each. New Brighton finished in 12th place with 7 1-4 points. With an entry more than two schools only 28 figured in the scoring.

Captain Dunn, Paul MacMurdo and Knight led the flashy trail for the winners. These lads received plenty of competition for the coveted honors, as Peabody high threatened to cop the hurdles, half mile and the pole vault in the early part of the event, but the Tubers nosed out the opponents in the finals.

Dunn of Ellwood and Bradley of Connelville staged a duel in the hurdle contests, giving the fans a great thrill. The former, a winner of the 220-yard high hurdles, with Bradley trailing him. In the 220-yard low hurdles things were just reversed, as Bradley topped them at a little faster clip with MacMurdo a short pace behind.

The 440-yard run was won by Fleming of Westinghouse and MacMurdo placed third for the Tubers. MacMurdo hit his stride as he led the crew in the 880-yard run to take the top berth in the event. Cross helped to annex some tallies by placing third in this department.

As in the other meets, Ellwood failed to shine in the field events. Knight helped the blue and white cause, as he tied with New Castle for second place in the pole vault. All the other entries for the Tubers in this department failed to place.

In the mile relay the locals did not place, and in the 100-yard dash they did not even have an entry, as Sheeler was saved to take part in the relay. Justice, who ran the dashes for the Tubers in the other meets, was eligible to take part in the last two events, due to the eighth semester rule. It was a great sight to see the Ellwood City boys returning from the meet with honors tucked away safely.

Coach Bartholomew is to be congratulated on his fine work and effort in turning out such a strong aggregation. His crew has won two titles and Saturday's victory was a distinct honor and one difficult to obtain due to the stiff competition.

Arrangements will undoubtedly be made for Captain Dunn and Paul MacMurdo to take part in the state meet, which will be held in Altoona. Coach Bartholomew hails from Altoona and will take an especial interest in exhibiting his prize-winners there.

Mr. Burson and Nurse Mrs. Campaigne visited all parents of children named and explained the purpose of the clinic.

Thursday, May 15, the first examination was held. Those in charge were Dr. William Shields of Ellwood City, Dr. McCarter of Beaver Falls, nurses Mrs. Campaigne and Miss Riley. Dr. Heess, local dentist, is co-operating with the clinic.

During the day 21 children were examined. Of these only six were free from some physical defect and the defects found can be remedied. Six had enlarged tonsils, four diseased tonsils, one adenoids, five nasal obstruction, five defective teeth, one malnutrition, three enlarged glands, one defective vision, three heart defects and one hernia.

Next Thursday the final examination will be given for those that were unable to go through at the first date. Then the follow up work will be carried out.

Other activities of the J. Harvey Marshall post at this time are the Boy Scouts, junior American Legion baseball team, which is being put through strenuous practice workouts so as to be in shape for the championship series. The Americanization class will soon finish up first term and fine progress has been reported from J. Gerald Muder. This class meets twice a week, Tuesday and Friday evenings.

Ellwood Team Is Loser Saturday

Disastrous First Inning Causes
Ellwood To Drop Contest
To Aliquippa

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—A disastrous first inning caused the Ellwood City baseball club to drop a contest on the local grounds when Aliquippa collected five runs in the first frame and defeated the Tubers with a score of 8 to 5. The losers got off to a good start also, but were unable to overcome the commanding position secured by the visitors.

Pat Boyle started on the mound for Ellwood but was out of form and was forced out of the box in the opening frame after the winners had started a healthy rally. Mundo was sent in to the rescue as Boyle failed to hit his winning stride.

Beggs opposed the locals on the firing line but he also was replaced as the Tubers started to hit, and Wojanis injected to stop the fireworks. Ellwood scored two runs in the first session but this lead was soon eclipsed as Aliquippa went on a scoring rampage and chalked up a total of five runs. They came back again in the third to add two more tallies and still another in the fourth.

In the fifth the Tubers secured two runs and for the following three innings neither aggression crossed the home plate. With a final spurt the locals attempted to even matters but the best they could do was to annex a lone tally in the closing stanza.

Fitzgerald was credited with two hits and one was a three sacker, while Friedoff got a double and a single. Captain Volpe captured slugging honors as he hit three times, collected three singles, Latiano and Irvin each accounted for two singles. Fitzgerald crossed the plate twice and was helped by M. Sanders, Volpe and Friedoff to ring up the total.

T. Mordas was the big hitter for the victors as he secured three hits, one of which was a double, and added two markers to the cause. Murphy, Brennan and J. Mordas were responsible for two hits apiece. Nitella did his share by socking out a circuit smash over the fence. Fred Sanders, who has been absent from the team due to an injury, returned for duty on Saturday to occupy his post at the corner. He should be in much better shape for the next tilt.

On next Saturday the local nine travels to Rochester to clash with that club. The Tubers have not yet hit their pace, but will no doubt show much better form in spite of the late start in forming the crew.

Young Children Keynote In Social Reform Work

Just came home from an evening in conference with a staff of social workers at a settlement in the poorer section of a large city. Others who joined in this round table discussion were the dean of a law school and the director of a child guidance clinic.

The conference seemed to arrive at the conclusion that the biggest opportunity for such an institution lies in the direction of more work with the younger children, such as early morning hours for these children with a view to following these children up through adolescence. It was agreed that most parents could be reached more effectively through the younger child.

We dreamed together of the day when welfare energies would be turned more toward preventive work and less toward salvaging; that, therefore, many more day nurseries for children of working mothers would be established, and community schemes for caring for the younger school children who roam the streets from the end of the school day until their working mothers arrive home.

As one listens to the types of problems which confront the social worker in these places one is depressed by the apparent hopelessness of attempting to make the older children over.

Most social centers have been devoting their efforts to the adolescent children. Much is accomplished for those who up to this age have had fairly good habits and ideals. But the rank and file of children who have these social workers most concern, and claim most of their time, are the adolescent who have already been pretty well ruined morally, get into the courts, some of whom are sent to reform schools or have been returned from such institutions.

While the great souls commonly called social workers wear their life out trying, in the face of appalling discouragement, to salvage such children more like them are growing up to take their places.

The efforts have been turned upon the adolescent because he it is who by getting into trouble, has called the country's attention to him. You and I know that a child who has for ten or fifteen years been in an atmosphere of debased ideals in the home and neighborhood, without reasonably good habits of respect for truth, for property or others' rights, is unlikely to respond favorably even when exposed to the finest personalities and most wholesome social activities for a few hours a day.

As for reaching parents of such adolescents, the promises are discouraging. Such parents have been practicing, perhaps, inferior personal habits and ideals and have for these ten or fifteen years been cultivating attitudes and habits toward their children which have not proved successful for building wholesome characters.

You and I can't hope to make rapid changes in our own adolescent children and ourselves. It is pretty late. About the best we can do is to learn so to readjust ourselves to them as to annoy them less, to succeed in earning their esteem, to conserve in them the best ideals and standards they already have, and to go on furthering the good in them which had been begun at an earlier age.

Volant College Reunion Will Be Held In June

Graduates And Friends Of The Former Lawrence County
Institution To Meet

For the first time, after a period of five years, the graduates, former students and friends of the once famed Lawrence county institution of learning, Volant College, will on Wednesday, June 25, convene once more in reunion at the scene of the good old school days.

At the last reunion, it was determined that reunions should be every five years in the future, instead of annually as had been the practice for many years, and it happens that this year is the time for the gathering.

It is anticipated that there will be an unusually large and interested group of people in attendance and that this reunion will go down in history as one of the most enjoyable ever held.

The reunion, weather permitting, will be held on the old College campus, while the dinner will be served in the diningroom of the Volant Presbyterian church.

Among the celebrities who will be back for the reunion and speak are A. A. Galbreath of Rogers, O., founder of the college, Dr. J. B. Bowman, dean of Mt. Union College, a former instructor, Judge L. T. Farr of New Lisbon, O., and Judge James A. Chambers.

Old time residents of Volant and their descendants will join in making this a real old fashioned community affair and it is anticipated that it will be an occasion that Volant will remember for years.

Children Have Fairy Tale Age

Children's Librarian Says Child's Taste For Books Constantly Changes

When a child is about 12 years of age, according to Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian of the local library, he is at the stage when his taste for books changes from fairy tales to Boy Scout stories and lives of boy heroes.

When a few years older, he comes into the stage when he thinks and reads little else but war books, daring sports and aviations. Miss Joyce says that children often do not pass the fairy tale age until they are 13 and sometimes 14 years of age. In other cases, fairy tales do not appeal to the imagination of an eight year old child.

Complete Plans For Congressman's Visit

Hon Oscar De Priest To Speak
In New Castle On
May 31

The Ever Ready Club has plans about completed for the visit here of the Hon. Oscar DePriest, member of the United States Congress from the First District of Illinois, located in Chicago, on May 31. He will speak at the Senior High School on that occasion.

The club is working zealously to put this affair over big and is asking the co-operation of the community at large. This club is a welfare agency that has helped and is helping to meet the needs of many of the indigent people of their race but as there is a crying need for a place for the children, they are turning their attention to this phase of the welfare work.

At the present time there is not a place in Lawrence County, where colored children can be cared for and there are plenty that need this care. For the purpose of meeting this need, Congressman DePriest is being brought here for a benefit lecture in the club's first step toward this goal. Up until the present time there have been twenty-one congressmen and two state senators of the colored race, Mr. DePriest being the twenty-first congressman and the only one to have been elected this side of the Mason and Dixon line. He is recognized as a speaker of rare ability.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

"A Sensible Business Man" has his hand raised and he wants to talk to the class about something that is bothering him terribly. It is this habit wives have of daubing cold cream all over their faces at night, and putting their hair in nets under which are dozens of hair pins, holding curls in place.

Of course in the morning they are all very gorgeous for the world to look at, but the husband goes to work with the memory of that face, and looks square into the smile of an office girl who is trim and perhaps very pretty. Men are strange in their mental processes. They don't figure that the office girls probably look just as oily and be-netted at night. They see what they see, and as far as women are concerned their imagination seems to be limited.

"The girl who can cook and has common sense, and who is not all ways studying new cosmetics, but who will look after the comfort of her husband, doesn't have trouble getting him to be liberal about her allowance. Those are the husbands you find picking out a new car for the wife and surprising her with new pieces of jewelry. So tell F. R. that she better accumulate a few pleasing traits to serve when her beauty is gone.

(Signed) Sensible Business Man."

Men are not such eggs as some women would have us think. I've often thought if some women didn't work so hard digging their jewelry, they might be presented with it and save no end of effort and worry.

There are any number of tight-wads, of course. But there are women who never take and are forever giving. I'm not talking to them, so if you are one of them, don't write and jump on my poor shivering frame. I'm always getting letters from women who say the shoe doesn't fit them. But they are angry just the same. If you can't put a shoe on it CAN'T pinch, can it?

Many women who before marriage have dainties showing through their filmy dresses, afterward get the plainest clothes because they are eager to take care of. They sit around and read, refusing to do the work of keeping their figures in proportion and themselves attractive. They simply congeal and expect to have their husbands go on adoring them. All they get is fooled. The wonder of it is that they are surprised.

If I'm wrong, write me, care King Features, 235 East 45th street, N. Y. City. Copyright 1936, Premier Syndicate, Inc.

The child becomes accustomed to seeing the law disobeyed. He is often employed by the parents to carry fermented liquors and sell them and, with these bad examples before him, he loses all respect for the law."

Well, there may be much in what the judge says, but there are few boys and girls employed by fathers and mothers to sell liquor. It would seem the judge is laying a great deal of stress on exceptional cases. There is, however, no doubt that the sight of law-breaking must gradually demoralize young people in the impressionable age of life.

BEAUTIFUL CHILDREN

Lady Carlisle, well-known English woman, says today's children are more beautiful than those of earlier times. The reason is easy to see. We know more about food, clothing and shelter for babies than we did. More emphasis is put on well-being, diet and medical care. And our ideas have changed. Today we associate beauty with health and good physique. The beauties of the early Victorian novelist were frail, delicate, sickly. Pallor has given way to sun tan.

England has a new policy for India, but probably it's just another variety of muddling through.—The San Antonio Evening News

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, May 19.—The pocket-books of women, like the pockets of the small boy, always have been a mystery. To see the modern female dive into one of them and emerge with anything from a porous plaster to a white rabbit is not an unusual sight in subway, trolley or "L" train.

And they all contain about the same things, according to "Hacking in New York" by Robert Hazard, just published in Scribners. Here is what Hazard says he found in the average pocketbook left in taxicabs he drove.

From five to thirty-five cents, a handkerchief, sticks of chewing gum, a mirror, lipstick, rouge, powder puff, a rosary and small bottle of bichloride of mercury tablets.

GOING UP

Not satisfied with reaching to the clouds in their race for height, it now looks as though builders would pierce through the low-lying banks of moisture. Latest plans call for a structure rising 105 stories above Wall Street, which would be the pinnacle of the world's greatest building.

Louis Adler announces he has assembled an entire block bounded by Wall Pine and Water Sts. in the financial district and that the new structure will cost $20,000,000.

As it is now, the Chrysler Building in the Grand Central zone is so high that the pinnacle of its tower gathers moisture from low-lying cloud banks on certain days, and the moisture descends into the street in the form of a fine rain.

NIGHT BASEBALL

If they can get the boys out of the speakeasies or away from the rages in the evening New York may have night baseball. There hasn't been any big demand for it, but its possibilities are being considered.

A game of moonlight baseball was played in the old Federal League in Brooklyn several years ago, but the results were anything but what was expected due to the lighting system.

I doubt if the boys will leave their highball at nightfall for baseball.

STEADY BUSINESS

Frank Stevens is one man who knows his baseball crowd. He is the caterer at all the ball parks around New York, and he says the fan's appetite has not changed much with the years. The son of today's eats more than his father used to consume and the demand for hot dogs, peanuts and pop is greater than ever.

He says the fans do not go to the ball game as early as they used to. Formerly they arrived an hour ahead of "play ball" just to see the fielding and batting practice.

Now they gather more to see the actual game and the stars, and rush in at the last minute.

WEEK-END JAGS

Ship ahoy mates—here's a stunt that ought to catch the crowd.

Sailing under the British flag so passengers can legally drink all the liquor they can pay for, the steamships Transylvania, Caldonia and California will sail from New York this Summer, at intervals on a five days cruise with no port as their destination. They will go out beyond the twelve mile limit and simply cruise about with the bars open. One vessel sails in July and the other two in August. The National Tours Company will operate the cruise, and no laws will be violated. It is understood that bookings will be limited to 700 for each trip.

Soon we may expect to see "Saturday to Monday Voyages" instead of the old week end hotel jag.

PAPER PHILOSOPHER

Thomas Bauer, sixty seven years old, has lived within a half mile of Broadway for fifty years without doing a stroke of work, possessing a dollar in money, or reading a line of print, and never has ridden in an electric car or subway, talked over the telephone or taken a drink—for all that time he has been in the almshouse.

Bauer's chief concern today, after a half century in the poorhouse, is that he can no longer claim to be "the happiest man in New York." He was taken ill several days ago and his chief worry is that he cannot be around to cheer up his old pals, for, although illiterate, he is known as "the pauper philosopher."

Snake Oil

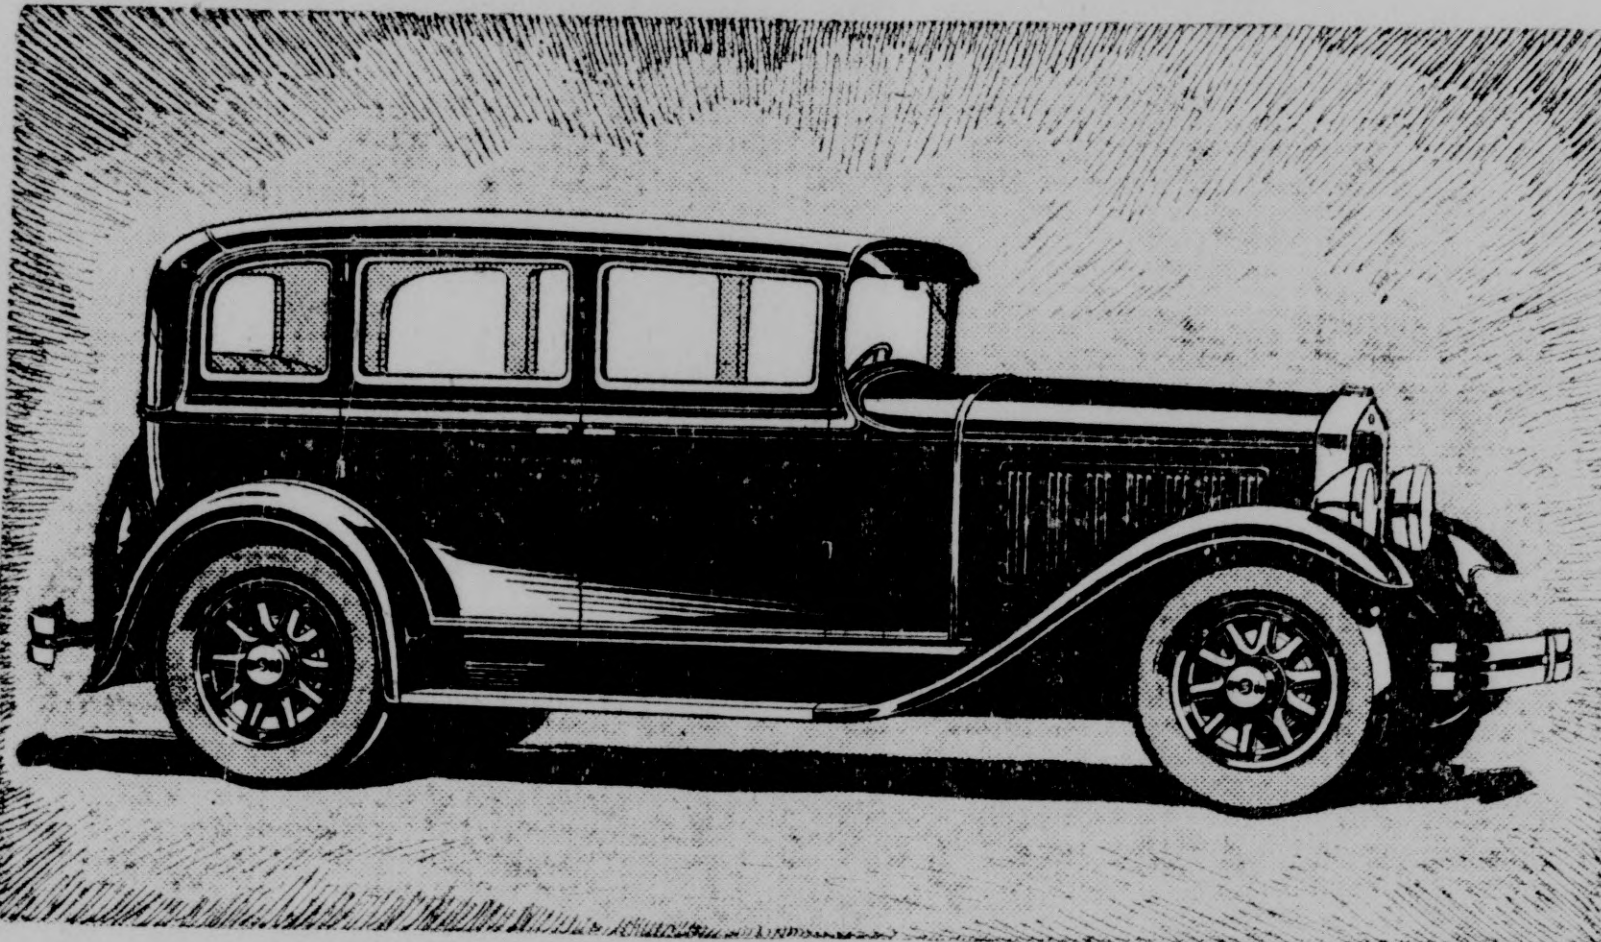

From coast to coast men and women are singing the praise of "Anti-Pain Oil"—a most powerful, penetrating, thickened ointment. It will penetrate, thicken, soothe, soothe in a few minutes. Mrs. B. Werner, New Orleans, La., writes: "Thanks to your wonderful penetrating oil, it relieved me of Rheumatism and deep-seated cold after other remedies failed."

"I had rheumatism so bad I was unable to walk on crutches for nine years," says H. C. Henderson, old soldier of Minneapolis, Minn. "After three months treatment with Anti-Pain Oil I laid off my crutches and now can walk like a boy."

J. B. Moore, Pittsburgh, Pa., railroad man, says: "Anti-Pain Oil is the only ointment that ever gave me relief from rheumatism. I use it regularly after being exposed to bad weather. For rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago, stiff joints, pain in back and limbs, corns, bunions, chest colds, sore throat, 'Anti-Pain Oil' is said to be without an equal."

Is the Robot Fooling YOU?

The Paris correspondent of "VARIETY" reports: "The music-wise Continentals object violently to mechanical music (in the theatre)."

WHAT, then, if Europeans thus prove their "mus-cowadon," are we North Americans supposed to do, that we are asked to accept mechanical music—end mechanical music only—in the theatre? Music, surely, perhaps?

Well, at least 2,000,000 theatre patrons have rejected that characterization by joining the Music Defence League. They mean that they want Real Music, not Canined Music exclusively, in the theatre.

If you value the Art of Music, you too, should be numbered among the "music-wise." Just sign and mail the coupon at the left.

Halitosis makes you unpopular

If you are not as popular as you wish to be, look for the cause. Possibly it is halitosis (unpleasant breath)—the unpardonable social offense.

It is impossible for you to tell when you have halitosis. It never announces itself to you.

The one way to be sure of not having it is to rinse the mouth systematically every day with full strength Listerine—especially before meeting others.

Being an active germicide capable of killing 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, full strength Listerine checks mouth fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then it gets rid of the odors themselves; it is an instant deodorant.

Keep a bottle handy in home and office. Use it every day. It puts you on the polite, popular and profitable side. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Night football and night track meets seems to have inspired other fields to use electricity. Truck gardening by electric light sounds like some pipe dream, but it's being done customers, it's being done, out at the Weinschenk Gardens. Joe Weinschenk happens to be one of those lads who takes advantage of every opportunity and when the team started to play night football it turned out an idea in Joe's mind.

Sport at night, why not garden at night? Fitting action to thought, Joe gets himself an electric light layout, has it fitted out on a tractor and there yare. The results is that the work in the gardens can go on day and night and the old excuse about it being too dark to see what you're doing doesn't count for a thing.

If you happen to be out that way some night and see lights in the fields, don't imagine it's some giant lightning bug, or that a couple of hucksters are raiding the place. It's merely Joe and his night gardening plant.

These are busy days for such businesses. Everything from radishes to geraniums is being rushed and the usual shift of duty out there is from the time a fellow gets up until he can't stand up.

The folks who belong to the First U. P. church felt right proud yesterday and they had a perfect right to feel that way. The new church was formally dedicated and the long inconvenience since the fire was done with.

Down on Long avenue the street is as dressed up as a sore thumb. The P-O Electric Company has finished changing the lights and instead of the old three arm branch lights with more or less indifferent lighting facilities, the new ones are single units, clear and clean and dignified looking, and tossing out illumination that makes the street look considerably better.

New Attempt To Raid Salt Pans At Bombay Results In Thirteen Being Injured

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 19.—Thirteen persons were injured in a new attempt to raid the Wadala salt pans in Bombay, according to a Central News dispatch received here.

Police were forced to charge into a crowd of raiders after the latter began to hurl stones.

An earlier Exchange Telegraph dispatch said that 72 Indian nationalist volunteers had been arrested when they began the attempted raid. About 150 volunteers converged on the salt depot from six different directions in an attempt to confuse the police guards and draw them away.

The raiders went on a hunger strike, another dispatch said, claiming that cement had been mixed with their food.

Eighteen ring leaders of the recent sanguinary Sholapur rioting were court-martialed and sentenced to rigorous imprisonment. Terms ranging from six months to seven years were imposed and heavy fines meted out.

Four 15-year-old boys were sentenced to 15 strokes with the birch and ten with the rattan cane.

The Story Of American Industry
Paper Making—(Part One)—Ancient Writing Materials

THE MAKING OF PAPER MAY WELL BE SAID TO BE ONE OF OUR MOST IMPORTANT INDUSTRIES. ON PAPER THE THOUGHTS AND DEEDS OF MEN OF THE DISTANT PAST ARE PRESERVED, AND KNOWLEDGE IS SPREAD OVER THE EARTH. ON PAPER WE COMMUNICATE OUR THOUGHTS TO ONE ANOTHER OVER GREAT DISTANCES, AND BY MEANS OF THE DAILY NEWSPAPER WE ARE CONSTANTLY KEPT INFORMED OF THE AFFAIRS OF THE WORLD.

BY FACILITATING COMMUNICATION, PAPER HAS CONTRIBUTED MUCH TO THE ADVANCEMENT OF CIVILIZATION. A SHARP PIECE OF FLINT, A FLINT HAMMER AND THE FLAT FACE OF A ROCKY CLIFF WERE THE WRITING MATERIALS OF THE CAVE MAN OF PREHISTORIC DAYS. HAVING NO ALPHABET, HE RECORDED THE HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY'S HUNT AND OTHER EVENTS WITH CRUDE PICTURES AND SYMBOLS.

THE ANCIENT BABYLONIANS WROTE UPON TABLETS OF CLAY, WHICH FOR PERMANENT RECORD WERE BAKED IN THE SUN. THEY SCRATCHED THEIR ODD-LOOKING CHARACTERS UPON THE CLAY WITH A STYLUS WHICH MADE A PECULIAR WEDGE-SHAPED IMPRESSION. HENCE THEIR WRITING HAS SINCE BEEN CALLED "CUNEIFORM" (MEANING WEDGE-SHAPED).

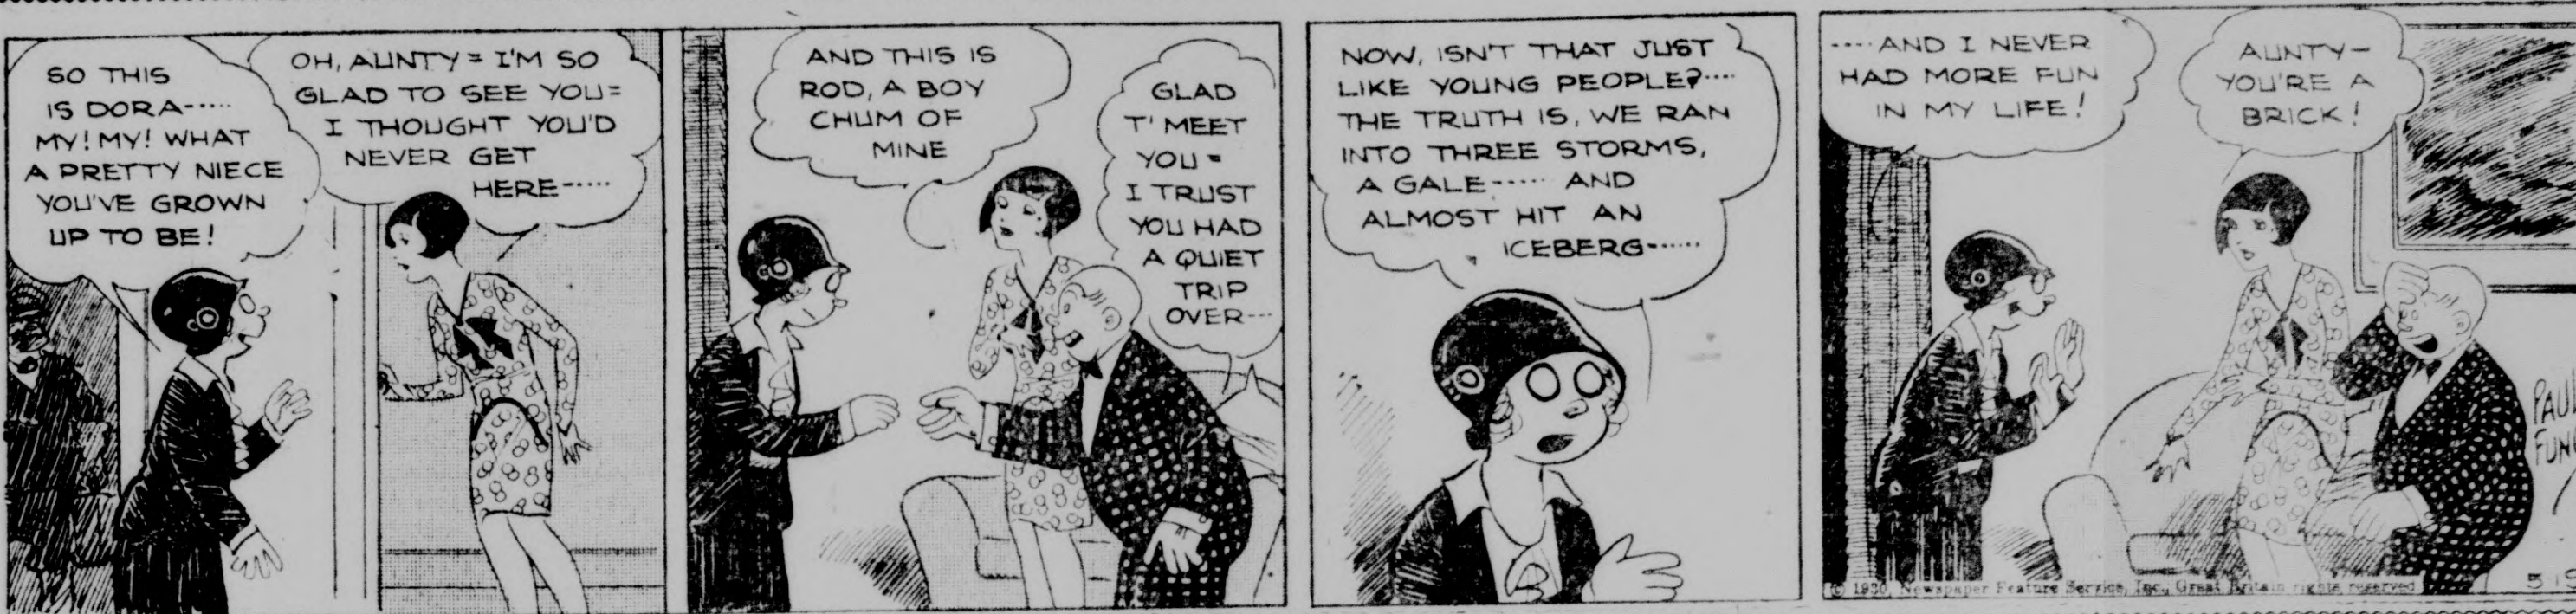

THE EGYPTIANS GOT THEIR WRITING MATERIAL FROM THE TALL PAPYRUS PLANT THAT GREW IN THE MARSHES BESIDE THE NILE. THEY SLICED THE PAPYRUS STALK INTO LONG, NARROW RIBBONS, WHICH THEY GUMMED TOGETHER, SIDE BY SIDE, TO FORM A LONG SHEET WHICH THEY ROLLED UP INTO A SCROLL. THEY WROTE WITH REED PENS AND A KIND OF INK.

Goldstein-Delmont Ready For Battle

Lightweights Meet In 10 Round Main Bout At Jolly Bowl Tonight

ARNOLD TO SWAP BLOWS WITH SHEA

Danny Delmont, Chicago, and Phil Goldstein, Pittsburgh, lightweights are awaiting the bell which will send them off on a journey listed for 10 rounds tonight at the Jolly Bowl. They weighed in during the afternoon, pronounced physically fit by a boxing commission examiner and fans are looking forward to a slashing battle.

Delmont is in the same clique as Jackie Thompson, world's welterweight champion and Tony Herrera, flashy lightweight while Goldstein is now managed by Jimmie Dunn who has personally superintended Phil's training.

The Chicagoan holds knockouts over Harry Kahn, Paul Allen, Jack Gillespie, George Kervin, Ervin Bernold and Red Rolan and has scored five knockdowns in battles with Armand Santiago and Spug Meyers. Goldstein thought not as young as Delmont has fought 65 times without having a 10 count registered and among his opponents have been Tony Cannonier, Tony Herrera, Jackie Pinkerton, Steve Smith, Hubert Gillis and Hubert Gillis.

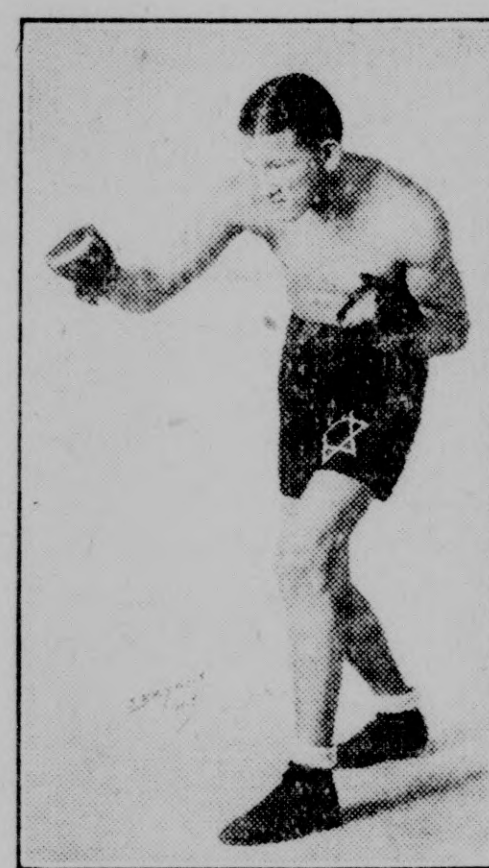

The battle in itself is one which will result in a lot of rivalry as Ray Alvis manages Delmont and Dunn pilots Goldstein. Alvis and Dunn are now matching wits to get the "jump" when Joe Goodman and Tony Herrera clash.

Frankie Lands, local 122 pounder will endeavor to even up with Tony Boda, Cleveland. Boda defeated Lands when the latter first broke into the game. They are enrolled in the six round semi-final.

Roger Shea, Cleveland left-hander, will match his "sock" against that of Tommy Arnold, local 142 pounder who has been dumping opponents regularly. Arnold doesn't appear one bit abashed as the time for the bout arrives.

Warren Farrow, colored heavyweight will substitute for Elmo against Nick Gruber of Alliquippa in the first six rounder and there will be plenty of punches flung. The commission has Elmo on the suspended list.

The first bout will start at 8:15 p. m. rain or clear. Goldstein is popular in the tristate and Delmont will have the Herrera element boosting him for a victory. On dope it looks like a tough battle all the way.

The Radiator Works team drew up even with the Lockley Machines Saturday afternoon at the Carnegie Field, by taking the measure of the Engineering Works 13 to 3. It was a good game. Both the Radios and Lockley have won two games and are undefeated.

Remember the games start at 6:30 o'clock, and not later than 6:45 o'clock. Any team failing to show up at 6:45 o'clock forfeits the game if the other team has eight men out for play.

There is considerable interest in mushball here at the present time. Let's keep this interest up and when the season is finished try and arrange an inter-city series with Sharon or Youngstown or Ellwood City for the championship of the district.

The umpires are asked to pay attention to the pitching deliveries and to stop any pitcher who is throwing an illegal ball and in this way the games will go along smoother. The managers are asked to abide by the rulings of the umpires selected to take charge of the various games.

Thomas, Brownlee, And Ewing Start In Fast Meet

NEW WILMINGTON, May 19—

The Covenantors were supreme in the running events, tallying 54 points to 18 by Westminster; but the Titans took the honors in the field events with 35 points to 23 by Geneva.

Thomas of Geneva featured the day's performance by winning all three sprints to take high scoring honors with 15 points. Brownlee, Westminster, was second in scoring with 14 points. Ewing, Geneva, was third with 11 points, and Deale, Westminster was fourth with 10 points.

He also broke the 440 yard dash record when he was clocked at 51 seconds, just 3-5 of a second faster than the old mark. In the 100 yard dash, Thomas tied the record at 10 seconds flat.

Ewing provided the surprise of the afternoon when he beat Brownlee of Westminster in the 120 yard low hurdles, breaking Brownlee's record of 13 seconds when he was clocked at 12 9-10. Brownlee took his favorite race, the 120 yard high hurdles, in 15 1-5 seconds.

Len Friedman, New Castle boy, did not take off his wraps to break the Westminster field record in the javelin throw. The former New Castle high star tossed the spear 184 feet 10 inches to take first. Roberts of Geneva broke the high jump record for the field when he cleared the bar at 5 feet 11 inches.

Pirates Defeat Cincinnati 2-1

Ervin Brame, Pitches And Bats Pirates To Victory At Cincinnati

BOOL AND ENGLE GET TIMELY HITS

CINCINNATI, May 19.—A long lanky Kentuckian by the name of Ervin Brame is a rather effective pitcher and has won a lot of games for the Pirates, but his status is in doubt due to the fact that he cannot hit the size of his bonnet. Brame had the mound assignment for the Buccos yesterday afternoon against the Reds and the invaders took the verdict 2 to 1. Brame only had three hits as his share in the Pirate victory.

Something will have to be done about his hitting or else Brame is going to find himself minus a job. A pitcher who only hits a homer, double and single is not much use to a ball club. Frank Morrow looked like a schoolboy as Brame almost single handedly knocked the Reds for a row.

Frey opposed Brame and was found for eight hits. The Reds had nine safe ones against Brame. The Pirates gave Brame sensational support while he was toiling.

Gallant Fox Will Be Given Big Test In Belmont Stakes

Horse That Won Kentucky Derby Saturday Can Be Champion By Winning At Belmont

Which One And Boojum Will Offer Biggest Opposition To Derby Winner

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 19.—There is only one horse, race that can determine what the Kentucky Derby on Saturday and previously the Pre-Kness so signally failed to disclose, namely, whether Gallant Fox is a great three year old or merely the best of an indifferent brood. The show down in question didn't arrive at any time during the running of either classic. It will come in the Belmont stakes, several weeks hence, when Which One and perhaps Boojum, the Whitney stars, will ask the Fox to run the race of true champion or admit that the mantle of greatness is not rightfully his.

He may not necessarily have been a great colt on Saturday but he certainly was no horse than a good one. Only a real horse can win the Kentucky Derby as easily as the Fox did and so today the only pressing the Fox started to run, they stopped, pronto, and never started again. If then remained for Gallant Knight, Ned O and Gone Away to come on and do something about it because a horse race is positively no horse race at all unless somebody finishes second, third and fourth in the order named.

Never Questioned

The Fox, in other words, never was questioned about his status once he got in front. There was no challenge in either race; not even an interrogation. Doubtless he could have answered, if the matter arose. But the point is that the matter didn't arise and the question was never asked. If Which One is the horse he was in 1929, the question will not be asked, but demanded. At Belmont Park many indeed, were convinced that destiny had selected this horse as the champion colt of 1930, after his successful season at Saratoga and his winning of the Futurity. Had he carried these victories to the Downs at Louisville on Saturday, he would have been the favorite, not Gallant Fox, and possibly the winner. Who knows?

At the present rate of progress it is estimated that every important highway will be paved by the time airports make them useless.

Highland P. T. A. Executives Meet

Members of the executive board of the Highland Parents-Teachers association will meet in the school this afternoon at 2:30 to talk over business of importance to the school.

The last meeting of the year will take place Thursday evening of this week when Rev. Margaret Joshua will speak to the association in the school at 8 o'clock. On account of this being the closing meeting of the year and being held in the evening it is expected a great many fathers as well as mothers of the scholars of Highland school will be in attendance.

An interesting program has been arranged and the committee will serve light refreshments at the close of the evening.

Correct this sentence: "The girls and I hope to go to the seashore instead of the mountains," said she, "but of course Pa will decide."

Well, if prosperity makes people wicker, this should be a good season for the Rev. Billy Sunday.

Stock Market Dull In Today's Trading

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Most of the active stocks dropped off to a lower level of prices today. The bears sprinkled the market with selling orders in an effort to keep downward movement in action, and new losses of 1 to 2½ points were recorded in a dozen or more of the leaders, including U. S. Steel, Radio Keith, Westinghouse, General Electric, Consolidated Gas, American Tobacco, etc.

Dullness rather than weakness was the outstanding feature of the market in the early trading and the turnover of the first half-hour was only 276,000 shares.

Demand for money in the financial district was extremely light and the three per cent call loan rate on the stock exchange was shaded in the outside market.

All sections of the market seemed around in the narrowest of price ranges, in the second hour, with the volume of trading near the vanishing point. Bankers displayed the most interest in the outlook for the floatation of the German "Young plan" bonds, and the stock market was forced to shift for itself. Commodity markets were dull, with the trend of prices slightly lower.

Youth Is Killed, Four Are Injured As Auto Plunges

Auto Skids On Slippery Road And Crashes Down 10-Foot Embankment Near Steubenville

(International News Service)

FLORENCE, Pa., May 19.—John Hoberman, 19-year-old Pittsburgh youth, was killed instantly and four of his companions were injured, three seriously, today when their borrowed automobile plunged over a 100-foot embankment near here.

The machine skidded on the slippery roadway at the crest of a hill, swerved from the road and smashed through a wire fence, finally toppling down the hillside and landing in a creek. The car overturned eight times in the descent.

Hoberman's head was torn from his shoulders in the crash. Thomas Hersberger, 21, Glenn Humbert, 19, and Ralph Petratti, 17, were picked up by a bus driver and rushed to the Steubenville O. hospital.

Herbert Maurer, 21, of Pittsburgh, was found wandering along the roadway a half mile from the scene of the accident. He was dazed and suffering from shock. He was picked up by a passing motorist and brought to Pittsburgh.

Steubenville hospital attaches said the condition of the three boys brought there is critical.

On The Great Auk

ASSEMBLY THE BONES OF A GREAT AUK.

"Little work has been done on the Great Auk since the world war," explained Prof. Alex Tansey, of School 43, Route 33, R. F. D., before a noonday luncheon of the Mid-Continent Cement Block Association, at the New Palace hotel Tuesday of this week. "Many things have held back the work of assembly—a complete skeleton of this most interesting prehistoric fowl. First, a lack of funds, then the natural reaction following the wake of a great war, and a general slump in scientific research attributable to a multiplicity of things. It has required no end of patience and heroic work to reorganize an' cry stallize any formidable amount of interest in the Great Auk, or Auk, or Auk, or Auk. The Great Auk covered an immense amount of North America, it was a great prowler, an' parts necessary to a complete skeleton are widely scattered, a vertebra here, a spine there, etc. Try to find parts for the old Premier car an' you'll have some idea of th' work necessary to erect a complete Great Auk. The parcels posted alone on parts so far has reached a party sum, an' shows no lettin' down. In assembly the neck alone thirty-four states contributed the final joint aravin' last week from Roundhead, O. The glacial period has held back the work. Many bones have come to light through cellar excavations, ditch diggin' an' street widenin'. The beak o' th' skeleton o' which I speak wuz unearthed near Urbana, O., where a farmer wuz settin' out a Andromeda Japonica, an' by the merest accident it fell into the hands o' a scientist who readily recognized it. Probly many precious bones o' the Great Auk have been tossed aside by those unfamiliar with its chassis, an' general git up. The Great Auk belonged to the family Alcidae of which ther' wuz 31 species o' varyin' heights, but all were three-toed. The Great Auk wuz a nocturnal fowl, an' while it didn't fly natural provided it with the necessary arrangements to do so, as all connections wuz there ready in case of emergency. The correspondence in regard to assemblyn' the Great Auk has been colossal, the costs o' railroad fares, expenditures, blind leads, an' gasoline, have been almost unbelievable. When the last bone is placed an' the skeleton o' the Great Auk is complete it'll mark the finish of one o' the greatest scientific undertakins in all history, an' think of it, our own United States 'll be the first to give to the world a skeleton o' the most astonishing bird of which there's any knowledge. Science, my friends is a great thing. Most of us would be settin' around all week an' walkin' on Sunday if it wuzn' fer science." (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

Chicago Police Roundup Chinese As Preventative To New Tong War

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 19.—Police held forty-four Chinese for questioning today in connection with rumors of an impending tong war. Chinatown raids yesterday, besides netting forty-four prisoners, resulted in the seizure of two revolvers and 300 rounds of ammunition.

Questioning revealed that rival tongs have been reporting members from St. Paul, Pittsburgh and New York, indicating according to authorities, that the factions have been gathering gunmen for a test of strength.

Terrace School To Give Program

ning

Programs Will Be Given In Ben Franklin Junior High School Auditorium

Pupils of the Terrace School, will be assisted by Benjamin Franklin orchestra in the presentation of two dramatic and musical programs, in the Ben Franklin auditorium Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday evening. The hours are 2:30 and 8:15 p. m.

"Health in Toyland" and the "Shut-Up-Posy" will be the two numbers to be presented. They will require a cast of one hundred pupils and an assisting chorus of sixty voices in songs and dances.

"Health in Toyland" represents a scene in a disordered playroom filled with toys and children representing dolls lying about in confusion. The owner rushes in from school bubbling over with joyful excitement and begins immediately to demonstrate upon her children the information she has just received during school hours.

"The Shut-Up-Posy," opens with Spring asleep in the woodland and Mother Earth sending out a heart-broken appeal for help to wake her. Nature's elements—animals, flowers, shepherds, and peasants, hasten one by one to her assistance. All efforts prove powerless to break the death-like summer until the Shut-Up-Posy is carried in and succeeds through the magic appeal that unless Spring awakes neither can the Shut-Up-Posy.

The program follows:
